SINDHU STORMS INTO SEMIFINAL

Ace shuttler P V Sindhu is in the form of her life and did what she does best at big events. She overcame a draining challenge from Japan's Akane Yamaguchi in straight games and reached the semifinals on Friday. The 26-year-old Indian, who won a silver in the 2016 Rio Olympics, outclassed the fourth-seeded Yamaguchi 21-13, 22-20. The Japanese shuttler had scripted a late comeback in the second game, grabbing two game points but Sindhu ensured there were no hiccups. One talking point was a 54-shot rally Yamaguchi won. Sindhu faces second seed Chinese Taipei's Tai Tzu Ying. "I am happy but it's not over yet," Sindhu said after the match

Lovlina secures second medal

The ordeal Lovlina Borgohain had to face in the last one year would have torn apart any ordinary person. Mother's kidney transplantation, her own Covid infection and eventual quarantine all alone and missing exposure trip to Italy, the list is enough to drive anyone crazy. But not Lovlina. Like in life, the 23-year-old overcame those challenges with aplomb. Thousands of miles away, her parents could not watch her fight and preferred to spend time walking outside their house in their village in Assam. As for Lovlina, she waltzed through to semifinal in 69 kg boxing event in Tokyo to assure India a medal, its second, on Friday. She comprehensively beat Nien-Chin Chen of Chinese Taipei 4-1. Lovlina now faces reigning world champion Busenaz Surmeneli of Turkey on August 4

PEARL MARIA DSOUZA @Bengaluru

BENGALURU region, which covers Karnataka, registered a 99.83 pass percentage in CBSE Class 12 Board examinations, whose results were announced on Friday.

The national pass percentage stood at 99.37 with 13,04,561 students clearing the exam. While the examinations were scheduled in May, students did not write them due to rising number of Covid cases and the lockdown. A marking scheme based on past evaluations was decided upon to announce the results.

Echoing the sentiment of CBSE schools across the State, General Secretary of Management of Independent CBSE Schools Association (MICSA) Mansoor Ali Khan said that considering the constraints, the board has done a fair job in modulation and tabulation of marks, keeping the wellness and academic progress of students in mind.

Will form cabinet in a week, says Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE cabinet will be formed in a week, said Basavaraj Bommai on Friday, during his maiden visit to New Delhi after taking charge as chief minister. He met Prime Minister Narendra Modi and a host of senior BJP leaders.

While he told the media that the visit was purely to thank party leaders for choosing him as BS Yediyurappa's successor and there was no talk of cabinet expansion, sources in the party suggested that Bommai is returning to Karnataka with the first list of cabinet probables.

Former ministers Umesh Katti and R Ashoka, who are now deputy chief minister aspirants, accompanied Bommai to Delhi.

Union Minister Pralhad Joshi, who was also in the run for the top post, played a perfect host and accompanied Bommai to all his meetings with Union ministers and party leaders. From Modi to BJP national president JP Nadda, all leaders assured Bommai of full cooperation for his government.

"Met CM of Karnataka Shri @BSBommai Ji today. Conveyed best wishes as he begins a new journey for Karnataka's progress. Assured full support for the development of Karnataka," Modi tweeted after the meeting. Bommai requested Modi to approve an AIIMS in Hubballi-Dharwad and an AIIMS-like institute for Raichur, which is identified as an aspirational district by NITI Aayog. He also appealed to the Prime Minister to upgrade ESIC Medical College and Hospital in Kalaburagi to Regional AIIMS-like Institute, a statement issued by the PMO said.

Bank credit growth falls further in June

SESA SEN @New Delhi

EVEN as the economy is yet to fully recover from the Covid shock, one financial metric continues to be a big worry – bank credit growth, which has either fallen or remained flat. Latest RBI data show credit growth of scheduled commercial banks declined to 5.8% in June against 6.2% a year ago. On a sequential basis, loan growth remained nil due to low demand from industries and banks' reluctance to lend to stressed sectors and companies.

RBI figures show the credit growth was largely driven by retail and agriculture sectors, while fund flow to industry has dried up. Advances to agriculture and allied sectors showed a good 11.4% growth in June against a paltry 2.4% in the same month in 2020.

Personal loans, vehicle loans, gold loans, and credit cards outstanding saw a 11.9% growth, highlighting the financial stress individuals face. Within personal loans, consumer durable loans fell 19.8% while advances against shares and bonds shrank 23%.

Growth in credit to big industries stood at 1.9% against 2.2% in June 2020, while loans to MSMEs registered a robust 54.6% expansion in June against 9% fall a year ago.

Going forward, full-year credit growth will likely remain in low double-digit, noted Madan Sabnavis, chief economist, Care Ratings.

Total washout in Parliament for second week

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE ongoing monsoon session of Parliament was almost totally washed out for the second successive week amid vociferous protests by a united Opposition demanding discussion into the Pegasus snoopgate.

While the government introduced four bills on Friday and passed one quickly, complete paralysis of Parliament could be expected next week as well, as floor leaders of the Opposition unanimously decided to stay firm on their demands.

The Opposition wants a discussion on the snooping in the presence of Prime Minister Narendra Modi or Union home minister Amit Shah, besides a Supreme Court-monitored judicial probe, while the government is not ready to yield, claim as it does that new IT minister Ashwini Vaishnaw has already given a detailed statement on the floor of both Houses of Parliament.

"Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha is the place where we have to speak. The government is refusing to give us a discussion on Pegasus. Obviously, the government has done something wrong. Obviously, the government has done something that is dangerous for the country, otherwise they would say, please have a discussion," said Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, after the meeting of Opposition floor leaders.

A short duration discussion on Covid lined up in the Lok Sabha could not happen as the House was adjourned for the day. Voicing strong concern over the conduct of some MPs during protests in the Upper House, Rajya Sabha Chairman M Venkaiah Naidu said such conduct lowered the dignity and prestige of the House.

Amid the din in the LS, two bills — The Commission for Air Quality Management in National Capital Region and Adjoining Areas Bill, 2021 and the General Insurance Business (Nationalisation) Amendment Bill — were introduced. The Coconut Development Board (Amendment) Bill, 2021 was passed in the RS. Congress leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said: "We want a discussion but the government does not intend to."

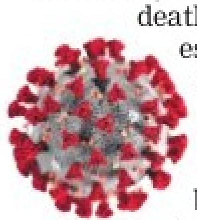
As cases spike, govt tells officials to take steps to contain spread

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CONCERNED over an increase in the number of Covid-19 cases in the State and a spike Kerala, the Karnataka Government has directed officials to strictly monitor the situation and impose additional containment measures if necessary.

"We have taken a serious note of the increase in Covid cases in Kerala and we are taking all measures to contain the spread in the State," Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai told reporters in Delhi on Friday. He is in Delhi to meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Ministers.



On Friday, Karnataka reported 1,890 new cases and 34 deaths. While Bengaluru reported 426 new cases, Dakshina Kannada had 345 cases, Udupi 155 and Hassan 135. The State had 2,052 new cases on Thursday.

Bommai spoke to Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar and deputy commissioners from bordering districts to get information on the situation, and directed them to monitor those coming in from Kerala by road or train. He will hold a video-conference with DCs, SPs and health department officials on Saturday, while the chief secretary conducted a virtual meet with deputy commissioners on Friday.

Health Commissioner Dr KV Trilok Chandra said they have been consistently conducting around 1.5 lakh tests per day. Testing will be increased in places where a high number of cases are being reported, he added.

In districts bordering Kerala, officials are insisting that those entering the State should have RTPCR negative reports regardless of their vaccination status, an official said.

Corporators upset over reduced fund allocation

Say Rs 60L not enough for development of wards, ask where last year's money went; earlier, Rs 2 cr used to be sanctioned for old wards

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta sanctioning funds to different wards for developmental works has not gone done well with BJP and Congress corporators, who said that Rs 60 lakh per ward is just not enough.

In a proposal before the government, the BBMP had asked for Rs 150 crore to take up work in the 198 wards of the 28 assembly constituencies. For works like filling potholes, improving footpaths etc, they said that they sanctioned only Rs 60 lakh per ward. Of this Rs 20 lakh will be utilised for potholes, Rs 20 lakh for footpaths and Rs 20 lakh for pro-people schemes.

A BJP corporator not wanting to be named said, "Since IAS officers are managing the wards, the amounts proposed clearly shows that they don't understand the city. The MLAs have to execute the works. For them to execute it, funds are required. The amount sanctioned is not sufficient enough to take up developmental works in the wards."

Agitated by this, former corporator, Abdul Wajid questioned why the amount sanctioned to each ward has been cut down. "Earlier, old wards used to get Rs 2 crore and new wards would be allotted Rs 3 crore. This meagre amount of Rs 60 lakh will not help with any kind of work," he said and pointed out that for desilting a 1km-stretch of drain, Rs 10 lakh is required.

The corporators also asked when the BBMP budget has not reduced, then why was the money not allotted and asked about last year's revenues and taxes collected from citizens.

"We have no problems with IAS officers managing civic affairs. In fact, we appreciate it. Unfortunately, things are not working out properly. They lack on-field knowledge. They need to involve citizens and former corporators to understand the needs of the city," the BJP corporator said.

'CHEATING RYOTS'

MLA to stage protest against BDA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DASARAHALLI MLA R Manjunatha is organising a protest against the Bangalore Development Authority at Somashettihalli on Saturday.

The MLA said the BDA is cheating farmers and site allottees with regard with land acquisition for the Dr Shivaram Karanth Layout. Pamphlets have been distributed across 17 villages in Yelahanka and Dasarahalli, where the layout will come up, urging people to participate in the meeting.

A top BDA source said that such a meeting was illegal. "The Supreme Court had appointed a three-member committee in connection with land acquisition for the layout, and the report will form the basis on which the layout will be formed. At this juncture, a protest in any form against land acquisition is completely illegal," he said.

Farmer activist Kodihalli Chandrashekhar, who attempted a similar exercise, was pulled up by court for contempt of court. "The MLA's action is also tantamount to contempt of court," he said.

Palike prohibits large dog breeds near lakes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AN order issued by Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), which stated that owners should muzzle or leash their dogs inside lake premises, has received mixed responses from citizens and dog lovers.

The order dated July 30, signed by the Special Commissioner B Reddy Sankar Babu, states that pet owners should muzzle or leash their dogs inside the lake premises, and the canine should be compulsorily vaccinated for rabies. They further may have to show the vaccination certificates to authorities and also pay a fine of Rs 500 if the pet poops inside the premise. Certain large breeds like Rottweiler, German Shepherd, Pit Bull, Great Dane are not allowed inside. Pet owners are also not allowed to feed their dogs inside the premises will be liable for any injuries on others caused by their dogs. Also, they have been advised to not walk their dogs at the time specified for the public to walk.

Despite repeated attempts, Reddy was not available for a comment. Dr Manjunath Shinde, BBMP Animal, Joint Director, said that earlier, dogs were not allowed in the lake areas, but due to growing demands, they changed the rules. "Some breeds are being prohibited because they have temperament issues," he added.

Some dog lovers have already expressed their displeasure over the discrimination of breeds and said that any animal can show aggression when provoked. Some demanded a special space for walking dogs without leashes. Many also did not accept the decision to put a muzzle on the dogs. They termed it cruel.

Some others, however, welcomed the order. Priya Chetty Rajagopal, Founder of Cubbon Park Canines, said that it is the responsibility of every pet parent to ensure that they pick up their pet's poop. "Thus, it is a welcome move. Also, keeping dogs in leashes is a good idea. Pet parents need to act more responsibly in public," she added.

PETER VIDAL

31st July: It's Saturday – Saturn's Day. Traditionally Saturn is always regarded as a planet of hard work, yet in some parts of the world, like Europe and America it has become a day-off work. It's also considered a difficult planet for relationships yet, in the western world, most people get married on Saturday! Perhaps they should take astrology more seriously, like we do in India!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Your finances are more positive than you imagine. You're tempted to spend more than you can afford, but you don't have to break the bank. Maybe there are bargains to be had if only you take the time to look around. A friend can point you in the right direction.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Be enterprising this weekend and seek out fresh opportunities in new areas. There may be a chance of a flutter and there'll be no harm in that as long as you're completely sure of your ground. By the time partners realise what is happening, you will be home and dry.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Interesting consequences may arise from chance encounters and family life will take a different turn as a result. There may be a mystery to solve around late afternoon or early evening. It's all to do with the Sun's position today, which means that in a few more days you'll know the answer.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The next stage is to reconsider recent developments, and decide whether you're happy with your progress so far. But events may soon move so fast that there'll be little time for detailed thought. In that case, you'd just better hang on to what you've got.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Put the brakes on, especially in the financial department. If you can only learn to live within your means, you'll be fine. Family affairs look easier in the afternoon, so hang in until later if you have awkward things to say - and difficult discussions to handle.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Fortunately you've got what it takes to cope with current situations. You may not be experienced in practical ways, but you have a great skill in understanding human nature and predicting friends' reactions and behaviour. Your foresight is on top form.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Weekend stars favour peace and relaxation, and you'll achieve this desirable goal best if you pursue activities which take your mind off routine matters. Keep your eye out for hidden costs, otherwise one of your treasured plans will unravel, or take two steps back!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Look on the bright side. At least the personal pressure should be lower than it was. You're far less likely to be subject to unfair criticism and far more likely to receive extra love and affection. That is surely cause for satisfaction. Plus, take care with cash offers.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Benevolent planetary aspects are there to be used, yet there are difficult indications which you can minimise if you wish. At this stage, it's up to you to create your own future rather than abandoning responsibility to others. Independence is everything.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's a day to enjoy yourself, spend money and extend hospitality to old friends. There are domestic chores to catch up with, in which case you might find that a partner is determined to be uncooperative. But then that is their problem! You have better things to do!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The Sun is backing and boosting you as hard as it can, creating exactly the right conditions for forming new friendships and healing long-standing rifts with rivals. New initiatives which you begin now will bring unexpected twists down the line.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You switch into a more emotional phase. That finds you feeling generally more comfortable with life and less agitated by the sense that you should be somewhere else and doing something completely different. Stick close to home if it makes you feel better.

DELTA VARIANT NUMBERS CROSS 1K IN STATE

Highly infectious and escapes vaccines, say experts; 11 breakthrough infections reported in K'taka

CHETANA BELAGERE
@ Bengaluru

WHILE there are reports on a document from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) which outlines unpublished data that the Delta variant of the coronavirus may cause more severe illness than all other known versions of the virus, and spread as easily as chickenpox, Karnataka's genome sequencing data shows presence of 1,089 samples that have tested positive for this variant.

"The state has crossed 1,000 samples testing positive for the Delta variant. In Karnataka, out of the genome samples tested, the Delta variant is the dominant one. We have to be extremely cautious of this highly infectious variant which is said to even escape vaccines," said Dr Vishal Rao, Dean, Centre for Academic Research, HCG Hospitals, and member of the Genome Sequencing Committee.

The document from the CDC apparently outlines unpublished data showing that fully vaccinated people might spread the Delta variant.

According to a senior doctor who requested anonymity, around 11,000 breakthrough infections have been reported in the state. Of these, the health department has analysed and found that 9,000 were vaccinated with one dose, and 2,000 with both doses. Of these, 90 patients have died.

"We investigated some of the possibilities of these breakthrough infections. Of 90 deaths, 70 were reported from Hassan and Mysuru districts. Interestingly, the numbers were reported mainly between April 4 and July 3, the time when Karnataka saw the deadly second wave," the doctor said.

He explained that there is a need to see how these vaccines are faring against the emerging variants. It is now evident that Delta is the dominant variant in breakthrough infections also. "We are looking at the possibility of whether there was any new variant which escaped mutation, or if Delta itself, due to its vaccine-escape mechanism, is responsible for these breakthrough infections and even deaths," he added. Meanwhile, health bulletin says that 1,089 Delta, 159 Kappa, 155 Alpha, 7 Beta and 3 Delta Plus cases have been found in Karnataka.

Stricter measures in containment zones

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE number of micro-containment zones in the city has shot up from 80 to 101 in the last one week. In view of this, the principal secretary to the Revenue Department, N Manjunatha Prasad, has directed the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta and district deputy commissioners to impose additional containment measures wherever necessary.

The order says the spike in cases calls for close monitoring and stringent micro-containment measures with the time-tested strategy of test-isolate-treat as well as focused vaccination to contain the spread of Covid-19 locally.

D Randeep, BBMP special commissioner (Health), said powers will be given to the eight zonal joint commissioners and recommendations will be taken from the zonal health officials to impose containment zones.

"Joint Commissioners can start implementing containment and surveillance measures. We are watching the clusters closely, especially in areas with five and more cases. Market areas will be closed down if recommended by local health officials," he said.

Another order from the BBMP, issued on Thursday, stated that in Mahadevapura zone, where the highest number of containment zones are located, eight apartment complexes have been identified as micro-containment zones.

A series of guidelines have been issued for the containment zones and the BBMP has also requested residents' welfare associations of areas including Bellandur, Varthur, Hoodi and Horamavu, to report any new infections. According to officials, the creation of a containment zone is to control the spread of the disease and also raise awareness to bring behaviourial change. The BBMP officials said that three clusters of three cases each in the same building exist in some of the containment zones. Such clusters are high at Vijnanapura and Vijnanagar award. Meanwhile, seven active clusters are located at the intersection of Banaswadi, Horamavu and HBR Layout wards.

The BBMP will map the cases and contacts and declare an area as a containment zone if five or more cases are found in one cluster.

WHAT THE GUIDELINES SAY

- Daily house-to-house surveillance in containment zone
- House-to-house surveillance twice a week in buffer zone
- Lockdown guidelines of state and central government to be mandatorily followed
- Guidelines and restrictions can be extended, modified or increased depending on increase in positive cases

Bommai takes reins, Haveri gets bumper stocks of vax

HAVERI: Haveri district, which was reeling under shortage of Covid vaccines, now has surplus stock, all thanks to Basavaraj Bommai becoming CM. Bommai represents Shiggaon in Haveri. Sources said in the past three days, about 25,000 vaccines were brought to Haveri from Bengaluru. Interestingly, Haveri was among the last three districts in Karnataka when it came to distribution of vaccines. When B S Yediyurappa was CM, the district got about 10,000 doses per day, and now the number has touched 20,000. Dr M Jayanand, district nodal officer for vaccination, admitted that in the past three days, additional supply of vaccines reached Haveri and other parts of the district.

BJP weighs 'No DyCM' plan in new cabinet

Party top brass wants to strike regional, caste, community balance instead of prioritising only some sections

ANUSHA RAVI @Bengaluru

ON the day Basavaraj Bommai was elected as the leader of BJP's legislature party and, in effect the Chief Minister of Karnataka, discussions on who will be his deputies too began. While many permutations and combinations are being worked out, the BJP's central leadership is said to be considering not having any deputy CMs, though there was speculation that some may be considered for the post. BJP sources suggest that Bommai may end up not having any deputies.

"The intent behind appointing three deputy CMs during BS Yediyurappa's tenure was to develop alternative leadership. The thinking was that those occupying the positions will rise up in stature to replace Yediyurappa when it was time for him to leave, but that did not happen. This time around, there is no need for such an alternative leadership," suggested a senior leader of the party with close connections to the RSS. The party is considering the possibility of striking regional, caste and community balance with a full-fledged Cabinet having proportionate representation instead of prioritising two or four castes with DyCM posts.

Yediyurappa was opposed to the idea of having any DyCMs when he took charge in 2019. Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, a Vokkaliga, and Laxman Savadi, a Lingayat, were picked by the party's top brass to be deputy chief ministers. Yediyurappa is said to have pitched Govind Karjol's name as the third DyCM after many attempts at pushback when it was decided that deputies will be appointed at any cost.

MPs from Karnataka greet Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in New Delhi on Friday

CM seeks Centre's help in vax supply

AT a press conference later on Friday night, Bommai said he also sought Prime Minister Narendra Modi's assistance in Covid management and vaccine supply.

"I will form the cabinet in a week. I will return to New Delhi next week," Bommai said when asked about cabinet expansion, even as there were indications that the party central leadership would finalise the names by then. Bommai's cabinet is expected to be a full 34-minister council.

Sources from the Sangh Parivar said they are hoping for a 'clean cabinet' with most of its recommendations making the cut. Discussions are still underway on whether deputy chief ministers will be appointed this time around.

After meeting Home Minister Amit Shah, Bommai said, "He (Shah) asked me to give good governance in the State. I assured him that I would honour the faith he has reposed in me." Shah is said to have told Bommai that these are testing times for the new chief minister as the State is facing Covid and floods.

Bommai said that Nadda asked him to prepare for the next elections. He also met Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat and discussed the Mekedatu irrigation project.

MLAs from N K'taka jostle to book berths

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

WHILE the countdown for the formation of a new cabinet has begun, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and BJP top brass will have a tough time in choosing the team, with most of legislators close to former CM B S Yediyurappa and the 17 MLAs from the Ramesh Jarkiholi camp leaving no stone unturned to book their berths.

Though the chances of many who were in the Yediyurappa Cabinet look bleak, a large number of the 38 Lingayat legislators, who have links with the RSS ranks, are exerting pressure on the party leadership. According to sources, Yediyurappa is keen to herd many of his close confidants — mainly C C Patil, Umesh Katti, J Madhuswamy, Suresh Kumar, Halappa Achar and Tippareddy — into the new cabinet even as the party high command has indicated that a host of seniors from the previous cabinet will be shown the door.

Many party leaders expect Bommai's Cabinet to have younger faces, sans the seniors who were in the Yediyurappa Cabinet. A hectic campaign by supporters of several young legislators has been gaining pace on social media, appealing to the party to give them a chance. If the BJP plans to keep out the seniors, several leaders like Jagadish Shettar, K S Eshwarappa, Umesh Katti and Shrimant Patil may not be considered, sources said.

Supporters of legislators like Nehru Olekar from Haveri, Duryodhan Aihole from Raibag, Mahantesh Kavatagimath, Abhay Patil and Anil Benake, Mahesh Kumatalli, P Rajeev, Anand Mamni from Belagavi who were not in Yedyurappa's Cabinet, are lobbying hard for cabinet berths for their leaders. And, until former Water Resources Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi gets a clean chit in the alleged sex CD case, many supporters of the Jarkiholi brothers are demanding the inclusion of his brother Balachandra Jarkiholi (Arabhavi MLA) in Bommai's Cabinet.

Under fire from a section of the Lingayat lobby for unseating Yediyurappa, the BJP top brass may not take a big gamble by dumping the former chief minister completely and it is expected that most of his close confidants will find a place in the cabinet, at least for now, over those close to the RSS ranks, sources pointed out.

AICC General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala greets Madhu Bangarappa after the latter joined the Congress in Hubballi on Friday

BJP govt formed by corrupt means, spying, defection: Surjewala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@ Hubballi

AICC General Secretary in charge of Karnataka, Randeep Singh Surjewala, said that though there is a change in leadership in Karnataka, the character of the BJP government, which was formed on the basis of corruption, defection and spying, will not change.

Addressing reporters here on Friday, Surjewala said that everyone was aware how the Centre used snooping to bring down the Congress-JDS elected government in the state. "The only thing that has happened so far is rampant corruption. There is zero accountability, zero governance and zero administration," he charged.

On the change of guard in the state, Surjewala asked, "Can rubber stamps replace reality?" He questioned the priority of the State Government at a time when the entire North Karnataka was reeling under floods. "But the BJP leaders are going to Delhi to become ministers," he added. The priority for this government was the spoils of power and not floods, he remarked. "Priority should be to get back Rs 11,000 crore pending GST compensation. Considering that the Union Finance Minister is elected from the state, efforts should be also made to get Rs 18,000 crore from the Centre's borrowings. This itself adds up to Rs 30,000 crore," he added.

Surjewala hit out at Home Minister Amit Shah over the tension along the Assam-Mizoram border and called him the most inept Home Minister ever. He demanded action against the CMs of both the states for their "irresponsible handling of the delicate situation." "Should we fight our enemy or our own brothers and sisters?" he said.

On the 27% reservation for OBCs in medical education, Surjewala said the Modi government took the decision fearing contempt of court. "A law in this regard was brought by the Manmohan government. Congress president Sonia Gandhi too had written to Modi. But he failed to act. Later, a girl approached the Madras High Court and the latter ordered in July 2020 that it was the Constitutional obligation of the Centre to implement it. The government did not respond even then. So, the Congress and the DMK approached the HC. On July 21, the court gave a seven-day deadline and fearing contempt of court, the government implemented the quota," he said.

Not walking into sunset, BSY to tour state in Sept

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

DAYS after resigning as Karnataka Chief Minister, B S Yediyurappa has decided to hit the road soon to strengthen the BJP ahead of the panchayat elections and the 2023 Assembly polls in the state.

The four-time chief minister has decided to visit every district after Ganesha Chaturthi (September 10) and strengthen the party. His decision to tour the state is being seen by many as a strong message to the party top brass that he will not join the league of party patriarch LK Advani and Murali Manohar Joshi and become part of the Margadarshak Mandal. Speaking to reporters here on Friday, Yediyurappa said the BJP has set a target of winning 130 seats in the next Assembly polls to form a government on its own.

Clarifying that he will not intervene in the selection of ministers in the new cabinet, the former chief minister said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is free to pick his team in consultation with the high command.Reiterating that he will not interfere in the governance of the state, Yediyurappa said the new ministers will be sworn in a week.

Rousing welcome

Yediyurappa was accorded a grand welcome during his visit to Bomalapura. Hundreds, raising slogans of "Raja Huli", gathered at the helipad in D Devaraj Urs Stadium and welcomed their leader.

Yediyurappa visited the residence of BJP worker Ravi, who ended his life following his resignation on July 26, and interacted with his mother Revamma and his sisters for 30 minutes. He handed over aid of Rs 5 lakh to the family and promised to deposit another Rs 5 lakh in Revamma's bank account so that the monthly interest will be of help to the bereaved family.

With Yediyurappa's exit, loyalists keen on Vijayendra's entry into active politics

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

WITH the resignation of B S Yediyurappa as chief minister, his loyalists have started the spadework for the electoral debut of his son and BJP state vice-president B Y Vijayendra.

Vijayendra's name was doing the rounds as the possible BJP candidate either for Basavakalyan or Ranebennur bypolls earlier this year. He, however, stayed away from the poll pitch and worked for the victory of his party candidates. He was also lauded by the party high command for his role in the BJP's historic win in KR Pet and Sira Assembly constituencies - considered a JDS-Congress stronghold.

Now, two bypolls - to Sindagi and Hangal - are on the cards and there are demands from several quarters within the BJP to field Vijayendra from Hangal, which was represented by Yediyurappa's close associate, CM Udasi, until his death in June. Bypolls to Sindagi was necessitated following the death of JDS MLA M C Managuli in January.

Now, with Yediyurappa resigning as the CM and Vijayendra no longer carrying the "Super CM" tag, their loyalists want the latter to enter Vidhana Soudha, hoping that his elevation as a legislator will bring in a new dimension to state politics. His election as an MLA will also help him build a rapport with legislators, both inside and outside the House, and also provide a strong base for him to shoulder any responsibility in the government in the future, they argue. While a few BJP workers feel that though his entry into the Assembly will help the party in the future, a few opine that he should not become a parallel power centre.

Haveri district BJP president Siddaraju Kalkoti said that they are geared up to face the bypolls based on the development works implemented by Udasi. "Vijayendra's name has not cropped up till now. Anyone who contests the bypolls on a BJP ticket will win," he claimed. While senior BJP office-bearers clarified that deliberations within the party are yet to begin on the bypolls, they made it clear that the candidates will be decided by the high command.

Some sections in the BJP feel that Vijayendra might not jump into electoral politics at the moment as everything depends on how the political scenario in the state pans out in the coming months. He may not look at Hangal if his father Yediyurappa is made a Governor or is given a national role by the BJP top brass. In that scenario, Vijayendra will opt for his father's constituency Shikaripura in Shivamogga district. Some others feel that he should be made working president of the state unit and lead the party in the 2023 Assembly election so that he will have an opening for the top post.

Meanwhile, the BJP unit in Mysuru wants Vijayendra to contest the 2023 Assembly polls from Varuna - which is represented by former CM Siddaramaiah's son Yathindra.

Cabinet lure keeps BSY critics silent

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

POWER equations have changed and Basavaraj Bommai has replaced BS Yediyurappa as chief minister, but Bharatiya Janata Party MLA from Vijayapura Basanagouda Yatnal has not stopped attacking the former chief minister.

On Friday, he launched a fresh verbal offensive against Yediyurappa, saying the BJP central leadership has asked the Lingayata strongman to 'retire'. But this time, Yatnal's statement lacked the usual punch.

Not just Yatnal, most other known dissidents of Yediyurappa too are keeping a low profile so as not to scuttle their chances of making it to the council of ministers when Bommai expands his cabinet next week.

Former minister C P Yogeeshwara, who was vocal against Yediyurappa, has not made any critical statements recently. On Friday, he was seen in New Delhi meeting party top leaders, seeking a ministerial berth.

The other voices of dissent within the BJP -- MLC Adagur Vishwanath and BJP MLA Arvind Bellad, who have made serious charges against Yediyurappa including that of phone tapping – have kept mum for the moment.

Sources said the dissidents are in touch with each other and are better organised. If the ministry formation is not to their liking, dissidence may surface again within BJP, they warned.

TO GO OR NOT TO GO

Chamarajanagar jinx still haunts men in corridors of power

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

FOUR days after demitting office, former Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa took a special chopper to Gundlupet, in Chamarajanagar district -- probably secure in the fact that the 'Chamarajanagar jinx' can no longer dethrone him. Despite remaining in power for 730 days, Yediyurappa did not visit the 'jinxed' district, preferring instead to return from MM Hills. Many other chief ministers have similarly stopped at MM Hills.

It appears that the Chamarajanagar jinx continues to haunt men in power. Yediyurappa's visit to Gundlupet surprised the media, so much so that one reporter ventured to ask him why he had not visited Chamarajanagar when 24 people died due to lack of oxygen. Yediyurappa avoided the embarrassing query, and left.

The list of chief ministers who have skipped Chamarajanagar is long. During his entire 14-month tenure in 2018, HD Kumaraswamy did not visit the district, although he did drop in during his previous term in 2007, three months before he was scheduled to hand over power to the BJP.

Yediyurappa did not venture into the district in 2008, and neither did DV Sadananda Gowda. Jagadish Shettar did visit the district in 2013, a few months before his government fell.

SM Krishna did not once visit Chamarajanagar, though former Karnataka Media Academy chairman Siddaraju recalled that Krishna had visited Talikota in Muddebihal in 2004, and did not win the elections. Talikota carries the same jinx as Chamarajanagar, or so goes the legend. Siddaraju recalled that the only CM who thumbed his nose at the jinx was Siddaramaiah, visiting Chamarajanagar nine times. But he, too, lost the Chamundeshwari seat in 2018.

Former CM J H Patel, known to be a rationalist, didn't dare enter Chamarajanagar town, restricting himself to MM Hills, which is also what 'Rajahuli' (royal tiger) Yediyurappa did.

Political analyst BS Murthy said, ''Except Siddaramaiah, the last six chief ministers skipped Chamarajanagar. It remains to be seen if 'rationalist' CM Basavaraj Bommai breaks the tradition.''

HC takes up suo motu case on monkey deaths

Terms news reports very disturbing, says guidelines should be in place to prevent such shocking incidents

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TAKING cognisance of media reports on monkeys (Bonnet Macaques) found mysteriously stuffed inside gunny bags and dumped on a road in Hassan district, the Karnataka High Court initiated suo motu proceedings on Friday.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice NS Sanjay Gowda passed an order directing the Registrar General to file a petition seeking action against all those responsible for the massacre of monkeys.

The court directed the registry to make the State Government, principal secretary of the Forest Department, deputy conservator of forest, deputy commissioner and superintendent of police of Hassan district and Animal Welfare Board as respondents to the petition. It said that a notice should be sent to the Hassan Deputy Commissioner to submit a report on the action taken, during the next hearing.

Around 10 pm on Wednesday, some villagers found 15-20 sacks thrown on the muddy stretch of Belur-Sakleshpur Road. When they opened the sacks, they were shocked to find monkeys stuffed inside the bags. While many monkey were dead, some had survived with severe bruises.

The court, noting that the news reports are very disturbing, said that it is necessary to take cognisance of the issue in terms of law laid down by the Supreme Court recognising the right to life of animals.

"Also, this is a gross violation of the provisions of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act, particularly Sections 3 and 11. We direct the Registrar General to file a writ petition seeking action against all those who are responsible for the massacre of monkeys. It is also necessary to ensure guidelines to prevent such shocking incidents," it added.

Cops unearth SIM box fraud in Mysuru, Kerala man held

KARTHIK K K @Mysuru

CCB sleuths have unearthed a SIM box fraud and arrested a Kerala-based man who was running the illegal telephone exchange at a rented house in Mysuru. According to city police, Shameem was running the illegal telephone exchange using the SIM box and Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) technology which helped him route international calls as local calls.

Based on a tip-off and information received about the racket, the CCB sleuths raided the house of the accused and seized over four SIM boxes having 32 ports each along with several cellphones, computers, Wi-Fi routers with SIM slots and modems.

During the interrogation, the accused confessed to committing the crime and have revealed that over 500 SIMs were used to route international calls as local ones to bypass international call rates and tariff charged by network operators.

"Through this set up, the accused person used SIM boxes and VoIP technology to route international calls and made it look like a local call, thereby bypassing international rates making the service provider incur losses. They would earn based on the differences between local and international tariffs," said Dr Chandragupta, Mysuru City Police Commissioner.

A SIM box recovered from the house of the accused in Mysuru

He said that fraudster might have teamed up with a foreign partner to route these calls through the Internet and then make it look like a local call. When asked if there would be a leak of any private information, the commissioner said there would be a possibility of it but we are not sure.

"This fraud is a billion-dollar industry worldwide and we have to go back searching about the involvement of any partner. We have a lot of technicalities involved in it and the CCB team is looking into all angles and ascertaining more details," he said.

Sources revealed that police were looking into the aspect if any call centre who work for foreign companies were making use of these facilities to route the international call. The police is also probing whether the system was used for criminal activities as the fraud could also pose a risk to the national security. The police have booked a case against him at the NR Police station.

Pinarayi expresses displeasure over ineffectiveness of previous norms

Kerala CM asks for better containment strategy

The test positivity rate in Kerala stood at 13.61% on Friday, the highest in a week, and 20,772 tested Covid-positive | EXPRESS

UNNIKRISHNAN S @ T'Puram

WITH the locking down of local bodies based on test positivity rate (TPR) failing to yield the desired result, the state government has decided to revise the containment strategy for managing rapidly increasing Covid cases in the state.

During a review meeting here on Friday, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan directed Chief Secretary V P Joy and the expert panel for Covid management to submit a more effective containment strategy which also addresses the issue of livelihood ahead of the next meeting scheduled for August 4. The existing strategy will be in force until then.

According to an official, Pinarayi expressed displeasure over the ineffectiveness of Covid containment strategy, which was proposed by senior bureaucrats and police officials. The expert panel comprising senior doctors had proposed more relaxations including opening up of all sectors with crowd control measures in force by mid-June. However, the suggestion of bureaucrats to divide local bodies into four categories based on TPR was approved by the CM back then.

Fresh cases, TPR and caseload have increased ever since the government imposed restrictions based on infection rate on June 16. On Friday, the TPR stood at 13.61%, the highest in a week, while 20,772 contracted the virus.

ENS @ Chennai

EXTENDING the ongoing lockdown in the State for another 10 days, Chief Minister MK Stalin on Friday said that District Collectors/ Municipal Commissioners/ Police Officers can seal certain areas where people continue to gather in large numbers. The CM also warned of action against commercial and other organisations that allow customers in excess of the numbers prescribed by the government. No further relaxation was announced. The directions come on the back of a slight spike in cases.

Stalin, in a statement here, said if the guidelines issued for containing the infection were not adhered to, it would affect the State in a big way. "As such, the collectors and the police should take steps to strictly enforce them," he added. The high-level meeting took the infection level in various districts into account, in addition to the states that border Tamil Nadu.

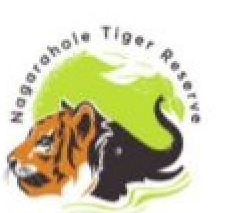
Nagarahole Tiger Reserve gets new logo

ENS @Bengaluru

INTERNATIONAL Tiger Day proved to be important for the two reserves in the state, with the new logo of Nagarahole Tiger Reserve (NTR) being released and Bandipur Tiger Reserve listed as one of the 14 tiger reserves in India to get Global Conservation Assured Tiger Standards accreditation on the same day.

Bandipur is the only tiger reserve chosen from the state for the accreditation. The new tag sets standards for effective management of wildlife species and encourages self assessments to check if their management will lead to successful tiger conservation.



The new logo was designed by a Bengaluru-based brand firm CoAndCo. The reserve's director D Mahesh Kumar told TNIE that the earlier logo had a tree which is not found anywhere in India. It's a species found only in the African Savannas. "Hence, we decided to change the logo and contact the brand team. Ashwini V B, Design Strategist, of CoAndCo said they studied in detail about NTR before making it.

Ananthavathi and her mother fill potholes on Kadaba Subramanya state highway in Dakshina Kannada district

Asha worker, parents fill potholes on highway

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

WITH an intention to prevent accidents, Ananthavathi, an Asha worker and her parents filled up 10 potholes along the Kadaba-Subramanya state highway.

For the past three years, the busy road strewn with potholes at Kindovi in Periyadka near Uppinangady, has put the lives of many motorists and commuters at risk. According to them, several petitions to authorities regarding the issue have fallen on deaf ears.

Ananthavathi says that last year, an auto rickshaw driver lost his life after he met with an accident at the same spot. "We took him to the hospital where he died due to severe injuries. Thereafter, we have seen many commuters getting injured at the same spot. Hence, to help the commuters and avoid further accidents, we decided to fill these potholes on our own," said Ananthavathi, whose house lies along the same road.

She filled the potholes braving heavy rain, much to the appreciation of many. "This is not for publicity. When the government fails to give good roads to the citizens, it is our duty to help one another," she adds.

Rajaram, Public Works Department (PWD) executive engineer from Uppinangady said that they had repaired the road using wet mix macadam (WMM). "However, the road was damaged due to heavy rain. We will repair the road immediately," he said.

Delay justified as results fair, says principal

DEVI M, Principal, Narayana eTechnoSchool, Vidyaranya Pura – which saw over 90 percent of their students achieving distinction – said the delay in announcing the results is justified as it was important for students to get accurate results.

Terming it a fair method of evaluation since class 10 is a board examination and all students attempted the same questions, she said that Class 11 examinations will have discrepancies since they were conducted internally by schools and marking schemes vary from school to school putting some students at a disadvantage. "Perhaps, weightage given to Class 11 could have been reduced or only the top 3 subjects could have been considered," she added.

Swati Soni, Head of School, CMR National Public School, said the evaluation compiled academic performance of three years of students and those who performed well in offline exams fared better.

Many colleges and universities have provided students only a provisional admission based on their Grade 11 or Internal exams conducted at school, while collecting full admission fees. With the results out, students need to back up their position and secure their seats, Soni said.

Delay in results doesn't impact our admissions: US varsity

"The delay in declaration of CBSE Class 12 results did not impact our admission decisions," said Glen Besterfield, Dean of Admissions, University of South Florida.

"As far as we are concerned, the students are already admitted to USF and their Indian school just needs to send us the transcript/results or the students can bring it with them so that their documentation is complete," he added.

Dr Besterfield clarified, "To formalise an admission and enroll students in classes, we need confirmation that the equivalent of a US high school diploma has been awarded prior to the start of the semester in late August." To start the bachelor's degree at an institution of higher education in the United States, a student from India should have cleared Class 12 exams.

Officials told to monitor situation

MEANWHILE, the government issued an order directing the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) chief commissioner and deputy commissioners to strictly monitor the situation in their respective jurisdictions. It allowed them to impose additional containment measures based on their assessment of the situation. Officials have been told to implement strict surveillance measures at border check-posts.

"It has been observed that there is a spike in the number of new Covid cases in the bordering states as well as in a few places in the State, which entails close monitoring and stringent micro-containment measures to contain the spread of Covid19 locally, " stated the order issued by Principal Secretary, Revenue Department, and Member Secretary State Executive Committee, N Manjunatha Prasad.

RATIONALISE RATES, BUT FUEL IN GST MAY HAVE TO WAIT

Chief Economic Adviser K V Subramanian said rationalisation of GST rates was ‘definitely going to happen’. If you call to mind, a three-rate structure has always been on the cards, so it’s not a question of definitiveness, but readiness to execute. Against a planned revenue neutral rate of 15.5%, the average GST rate is about 11.8%. The 15th Finance Commission too suggested merging the 12% and 18% slabs to raise the current 11.8% incidence to at least 14%. In hindsight, revenue rate neutrality in the first year of GST implementation helped raise the tax buoyancy rate to 1.20, but it was ironically discontinued in subsequent years.

While bringing fuel under GST often draws attention, there are other items like tobacco, gold and electricity that need urgent focus. As per the RBI report on State Finances, budgeted collection of state electricity duty for FY21 is ₹46,184 crore and analysts believe bringing this into the GST fold will reduce the cascading impact of taxes. Similarly, the GST Council must consider phasing out 90-odd state VAT exemptions on commodities, which accounted for about 30% of all commodity taxes and duties at an estimated ₹7 lakh crore last fiscal.

Clearly, a significant sum comes from petrol and diesel, but bringing them under GST right now is destructive for two reasons. One, such a move will deprive states of their crucial fiscal resources. That said, some believe the GST Council must start considering getting natural gas and aviation turbine fuel under GST to begin with and later extend it to petrol and diesel when state finances are strong enough to take it. Two, the guaranteed 14% revenue shortfall from Centre to states for five years ends next June. Thanks to the Covid-19 pandemic-induced slowdown, states will want an extension for a few more years. If it’s agreed upon, compensating states for any anticipated revenue shortfall on account of fuel taxes under GST will add to the Centre’s fiscal burden. Hence, it’s paramount to first raise GST collections and rationalise rates either by reducing exemptions or raising tax rates.

CAUTION NEEDED AS COVID SPIKES IN K’TAKA

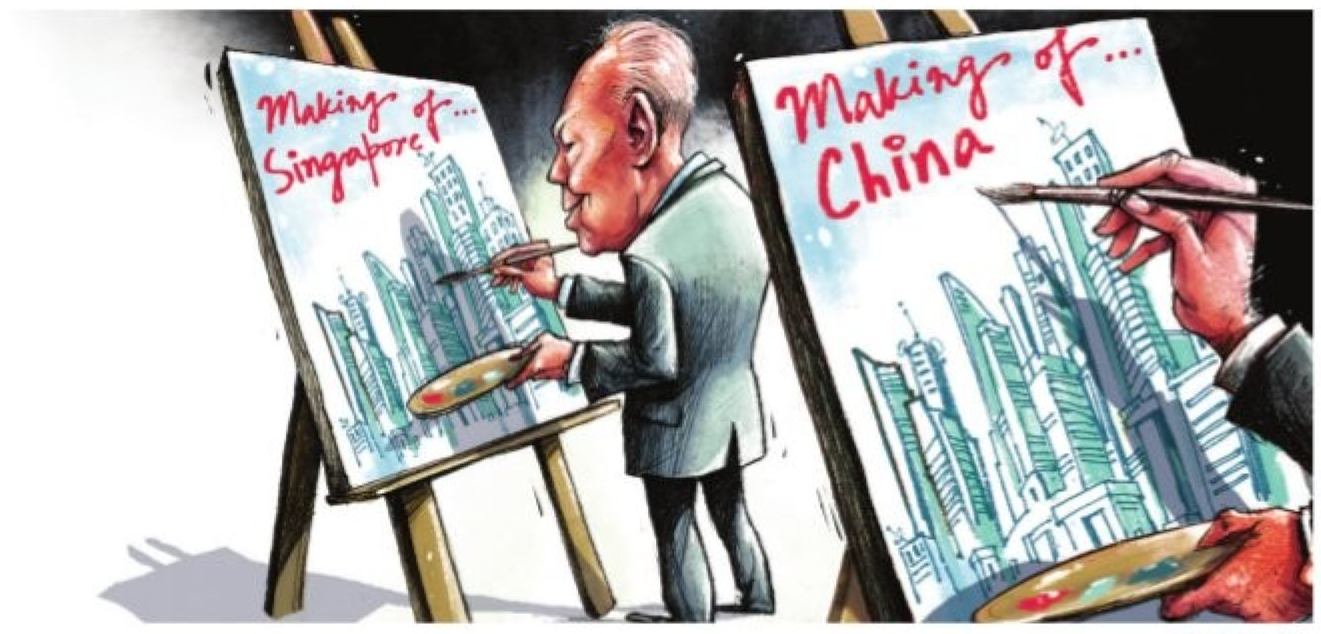
The sharp fluctuations in Karnataka’s daily Covid caseload over the past couple of weeks hold an underlying message: that the graph is worrying and there’s more to it than meets the eye. Experts who are closely studying the data warn that these are signs of the second wave tailing into the third.

As a society, though, we are far too eager to believe the falling numbers and disregard warnings. And so, the masks have slipped to the chin, travel bags are out, socialising is on and people are on the move. While such behaviour borders on the reckless, it is the government’s relaxation of all restrictions that is more incredulous. Cinema halls began screening shows two weeks ago and colleges opened last week to vaccinated students. And there are experts advocating the opening of schools as early as next week. While many around the country have cited the problems faced by the underprivileged, from access to online classes to lack of mid-day meals, a number of parents are worried about sending their unvaccinated children back to school even before the effect of the removal of restrictions can be assessed.

The sudden spike of 34% in cases, just days after the final unlocking, should make both the administration and people sit up. There is a new worry on the southern borders: Kerala in the throes of a wave apart, complicated by the Zika infection. As expected, the districts of Dakshina Kannada and Udupi are reporting the first surge, which could seep through the state very soon. Towards the north, Maharashtra is also reporting a spike in cases. To compound this rising concern, vaccines are in short supply and inoculating the masses in cities and the hinterland is still a gargantuan task. The Technical Advisory Committee, to its credit, is taking serious note of the changing scenario, and it is hoped will advise caution to the government. It would be prudent to retreat into a state of semi-lockdown and ramp up vaccination, so as to be better prepared for another wave. The public, on its part, should realise that it’s not yet time to drop guard.

Deng Xiaoping visited Singapore in 1978 and was very impressed with its rapid economic growth. With Deng on the ascendant in China, Lee’s role increased manifold

LEE KUAN YEW AND CHINA’S TRANSFORMATION



SOUMYADIP SINHA

V SURYANARAYAN
Senior Professor (Retd), Centre for South and Southeast Asian Studies, University of Madras

Lee Kuan Yew (1923–2015), the architect of modern Singapore, transformed the island republic “From Third World to First” (the title of his memoirs), an achievement unparalleled in modern Asian history. What is less known is the fact that this seminal figure was responsible for the transformation of the People’s Republic of China (PRC). China today has become not only the foremost Asian power, it is rapidly catching up with the US.

Early in his political career, Lee realised that Singapore (a Chinese island in a Malay sea) could not afford to become a “Third China”. The leaders of Indonesia and Malaysia were concerned about Chinese cultural exclusiveness and their stranglehold on the economy. The nationalism had strong streaks of xenophobia, not only against the colonial powers but also against the economically powerful Chinese community. Addressing the Nanyang University in October 1959, Lee underlined: “If Nanyang becomes a symbol of Chinese excellence and the supremacy of Chinese scholarship and learning then verily we will aggravate the position of overseas Chinese.” It was this firm belief that made Singapore dissuade the “boat people” (mainly ethnic Chinese) from coming to its shores.

Adding to the complexity, the revolutionary leadership and militant following of the Malayan Communist Party (MCP) came from the Chinese community. The MCP, which waged an armed struggle for power from 1948 to 1960, received powerful ideological and, to some extent, armed support from the Chinese Communist Party (CCP). The Malay leaders, therefore, were highly suspicious of China’s expansionist designs. This ethnic reality prompted Lee to declare that Singapore would be the last among ASEAN nations to establish diplomatic relations with Beijing, which it did only in 1990.

According to Lee, two major obstacles had to be overcome before normalcy was established in bilateral relations. After the Revolution in 1911, when Dr Sun Yat Sen became the President of Kuomintang China, he proclaimed a new Constitution under which citizenship went with ethnicity and not the place of residence. Thus a Chinese living in Malaya or Singapore became a citizen of China; his loyalty was to China and not to Malaya or Singapore. This policy made Southeast Asian nationalists view ethnic Chinese as Beiing’s “fifth column”. It was only after many years of persuasive diplomacy that China’s leaders revised their thinking. They advocated that the Chinese communities should become citizens of the countries in which they lived and began the universal practice of passports and visas.

The second impediment was the powerful ideological support that the CCP extended to fraternal communist parties. The Voice of Malayan Revolution, The Voice of Thai Revolution and The Voice of Burma Revolution—all underground radios—began to function from Southern China. The PRC, at that time, made a distinction between government-to-government and party-to-party relations. Lee, a staunch anti-communist in domestic politics, was referred to as a “running dog of American and British imperialism”.

Lee was able to convince the Chinese leaders that support to local communist parties was an obstacle if China wanted to expand economic and political relations. In a major initiative, China stopped the support to communist parties. Gradually China became a status quo power. During the Third Indo-China War, China worked together with the US and ASEAN to isolate Vietnam. The PRC has changed to such an extent that it is today the main supporter of many reactionary regimes—the military leadership in Pakistan, the Rajapaksas in Sri Lanka and the military junta in Myanmar.

It is worth narrating an incident that took place during the first goodwill visit of a Singapore delegation in 1967, which is given in S R Nathan’s book, An Unexpected Journey: Path to Presidency. The bilateral relations were still tentative. The centrepiece of the visit was the meeting of Lee and the Chinese Prime Minister Hua Guofeng. Hua presented Lee with a book, saying: “This is the correct account of the war between China and India. I hope you will find it useful.” Lee took the book, looked at the front cover, looked at the back, and said: “Prime Minister, this is your version of the war. There is another version, the Indian version. And in any case I am from Southeast Asia. It is nothing to do with us”. He handed the book back. Nathan has written, “For me, this was a very important moment, a clear confirmation that Lee Kuan Yew, ethnically Chinese, was his own man, in no way subordinate to China or the Chinese Communists.”

Deng wanted to replicate the Singapore model in China. ... Lee visited China 33 times. Dr Goh Keng Swee, the man behind the Singapore miracle, went to China and advised it on the development of export promotion zones

Another low point in China-Singapore relations deserves mention. Singapore has no space to train its armed forces and, therefore, uses Taiwanese territory. However, Singapore has made it clear that it does not follow two China policies. In November 2016, China seized nine armoured vehicles that Singapore had shipped through Hong Kong on their return after training in Taiwan. The Chinese government launched a vituperative attack over conducting military exchanges with Taiwan. Singapore spends nearly 20% of its budget on defence, which illustrates how vulnerable it is. It took many months for relations to become normal.

With Deng Xiaoping on the ascendant, Lee’s role increased manifold. To quote Lee: “He was the most important leader I had met. He was a five-footer but a giant among men.” Both were Hakkas and this common linkage further cemented the friendship. Deng visited Singapore in 1978. He was very impressed with Singapore’s rapid economic growth and orderliness; he wanted to replicate the Singapore model in China. Lee, in turn, told him that China would benefit a lot if the capital and entrepreneurial skill of the Overseas Chinese was mobilised for economic betterment of China. To quote Lee: “I told Deng over dinner in 1978 that we, Singapore Chinese, were the descendants of illiterate, landless peasants from Guangdong and Fujian in South China, whereas the scholars, Mandarins, and literati had stayed and left their progeny in China. There was nothing that Singapore had done which China could not do and do better”. Lee visited China 33 times. Dr Goh Keng Swee, the man behind the Singapore miracle, went to China and advised it on the development of export promotion zones. It is estimated that the Overseas Chinese had contributed nearly 70% of the foreign direct investment in China.

Lee held the view that competition between China and the US is inevitable, but conflict is not. But with growing strains between China and the US, how will Singapore adjust to new realities? Unlike Deng, who subordinated foreign policy for the sake of economic development, Xi Jinping is more assertive and decisive. Washington and Beijing have started pressurising Singapore to change its foreign policy in their favour. And with China determined to solve the “Malacca Straits dilemma” by exploring alternative trade routes, Singapore’s locational advantage is bound to decrease. Equally relevant, the “Make in China 2025” policy might adversely affect the island republic. Over 16% of Singapore’s exports to China are manufactured goods and if China becomes self-reliant, Singapore’s exports are expected to decline.

It is very difficult to hazard how the winds of change would affect Singapore in the coming years. But if the past holds any lessons, one should not underestimate the resilience of Singapore’s leadership to face new challenges.

IBC THE BEST BET FOR TIMELY & EFFECTIVE RESOLUTION

ANUJ TIWARI
New Delhi-based advocate specialising in corporate criminal defence and insolvency laws

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016, is an epochal legislation to bring a paradigm shift in the manner of resolution of stressed companies that were unable to pay off their debts. However, of late, numerous criticisms have surfaced that the IBC is facilitating high haircuts (lesser recovery than admitted claims) to the lenders, which is causing substantial losses of public monies. For instance, prominent financial journalist Sucheta Dalal, in her recent article in a leading blog, has criticised what she terms “ridiculous haircuts” being accepted by the lenders under the IBC.

The criticism of the IBC also seems to be fuelled by the fact that under it, the lenders have on average realised only around 40% of their total admitted claim (going as low as 6% in a certain case), and around 75% of the companies have faced liquidation instead of the desired resolution of insolvency. The critics seem to have relied upon two criteria: higher haircuts and “lesser resolution than liquidation” to assert that the IBC has turned out to be an instrument providing legitimacy to the loss of public money. Broadly, it is argued that the IBC is not facilitating the very purpose for which it was enacted, which is maximisation of the value of the stressed companies.

However, the critics have failed to appreciate that whether the IBC has been successful in facilitating the recovery of debts should be ascertained not by comparing the realised amount with the admitted claims, but rather by comparing the realised amount with the value of assets of a company under stress, i.e. liquidation value. It is absurd to even assert that the IBC ought to have facilitated the realisation of all admitted dues of lenders irrespective of the value of the assets of a company. Simply put, if a company having assets valued at ₹100 has total admitted dues of ₹500, it would be grossly unfair to criticise the IBC if the lenders realise only ₹186. As per a report published by the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India (IBBI), the lenders, till 31 March 2021, have realised around 186% of the liquidation value of the assets of the companies that were resolved by the IBC. According to the same report, lenders of more than 25% of the companies have realised more than twice the liquidation value of the respective firms. In this context, it is also relevant to mention that the IBC has revolutionised the recovery mechanism from the guarantors of the stressed companies, the constitutional validity of which has been successfully defended by the present government recently before the Supreme Court. Thus, the recovery rate will, in all probability, increase further in the coming times, since the lenders are likely to initiate insolvency proceedings against guarantors of the companies.

The IBC has ushered in a new era of insolvency in India and put the nation on the map of insolvency jurisprudence in line with the global best practices. Critics however have taken a blinkered view of the Code claiming it has led to higher haircuts and caused ‘lesser resolution than liquidation’

As regards the second limb of criticism that the companies are increasingly facing liquidation rather than insolvency resolution under the IBC, the critics have failed to take into account the fact that almost 74% of the companies that faced liquidation were already defunct at the time of initiation of the insolvency resolution process. For that matter, 35% of the companies successfully resolved through IBC were defunct and thus were given a new life by the law.

Further, there are allegations claiming collusive insolvency proceedings with the sole purpose of waiver of all liabilities of the stressed companies. Without commenting on the factual merits of such allegations, it would not be wrong to say that the IBC has a robust in-built mechanism to deal with such cases and provides for appropriate penalties including imprisonment for any collusion between stakeholders. In fact, in order to maximise the assets of the companies under stress, the IBC not only consolidates the existing assets of a company, but also has provisions to recover those that have been siphoned off by way of any previous fraudulent, preferential, undervalued or extortionate transactions, which is determined by way of an independent forensic audit.

Nevertheless, it is undeniable that there is a huge disparity between the value of assets of the companies under insolvency and the admitted dues against them, which leads to lower recovery. The remedy to this lies not in modifying the IBC, but in ensuring that the lenders exercise better due diligence while extending loans and also approaching the insolvency courts when the company under stress is still functional and operating. For instance, a company that is a going concern would have a greater value to its assets as compared to a firm that has become defunct.

Hence, we must not shy away from accepting that the IBC has ushered in a new era of insolvency in India and put the nation on the map of insolvency jurisprudence in line with the global best practices. We can safely assume that the Sisyphean endeavour of pushing the boulder of stressed assets up the hill of recovery again and again is done and dusted with. Now, the IBC provides the lenders with all the help required to reach the top of the hill.

Shocking hit-and-run case

The hit-and-run case that killed a district court judge in Ranchi was shocking. Thanks to the CCTV camera footage, there is hope that the culprits will be caught. They should be punished severely such that others will refrain from acts like this in the future.

Elizabeth Koshy, Pathanamthitta

Politics in everything

When Brijgopal Loya, a judge who was hearing a case where Amit Shah was involved, died of a heart attack, there were calls for a CBI enquiry and allegations of murder, but when the judge in Ranchi was murdered with CCTV footage as proof, the higher courts had to ask the authorities for follow-up action. It seems nothing is significant in the country without politics.

If the government keeps ignoring healthcare, it will not only widen the gap between the haves and have-nots but also increase the out-of-pocket expenditure for people.

This is with reference to Vax nationalism and global economic recovery (Jun 30). The article has highlighted that vaccine nationalism has retarded economic recovery. It has also brought up the ineffectiveness of the WHO in promoting the global sharing of vaccines. With globalisation, no country can behave like an island.

Opportunities for everyone

This is with reference to Teaching engg in local languages (Jun 30). It is good to teach professional courses in regional languages and give opportunities to bright students who have only studied in their mother tongue. At the same time, an atmosphere for employment of students who complete the course in a local language must be created in industries. But the necessity of teaching English to them must also be kept in mind as they may have to interact with many people in their career.

Ram Saran Singh, Bengaluru

More emphasis on English

That only 1.6-6% of students in constituent colleges of Anna University opted for the Tamil medium engineering courses in 2019 speaks clearly of the attitude towards the programme. Wasting public funds on the courses in regional languages when there are very few takers should be avoided. Since engineering graduates may have to serve in various places in the country and abroad, there should anyway be more emphasis on English than the mother tongue.

Centre ducks question on Ministry of Cooperation

Response to query yet to be uploaded by Rajya Sabha secretariat

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Centre has ducked questions in Parliament on the consultation process it followed before constituting the Ministry of Cooperation, headed by Union Home Minister Amit Shah. It said this was created keeping in view the functional requirements of the government and to maximize administrative efficiency.

Rajya Sabha MPs — CPI's Binoy Viswam and YSR Congress Party's Venkataramana Rao Mopidevi — asked questions on the new ministry. The response to these questions is yet to be uploaded by the Rajya Sabha secretariat. The MPs were told there is a delay because this is a new ministry.

Viswam asked about the mandate of the Ministry of Cooperation and whether the Centre consulted the state sovernments regarding creation of a new ministry that deals with Cooperative Societies regulated by state laws. BI Verma, Minister of State in the Ministry of Cooperation, said that ministries/departments are recognised/merged/created keeping in view the functional requirement of the government and to maximize administrative efficiency. "The Ministry of Cooperation has been created by transferring the existing entries related to cooperation and cooperative in the business of the erstwhile Department of Agriculture Cooperation and Farmers Welfare."

On whether the mandate of the ministry is different from the Department of Cooperation under the Ministry of Agriculture, the minister said there shall be no overlap between the functions of the Ministry of Cooperation and Department of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare. According to the government, the Ministry of Cooperation will provide a separate administrative legal and policy framework for strengthening the cooperative movement.

"It will help deepen cooperatives as a true people-based movement reaching the grassroots. A cooperative-based development model is relevant where each member works with a spirit of responsibility. The Ministry will work to streamline processes," he said.

Give the Farmers Support & Respect
Repeal 3 Farm Laws
AKALI DAL

Union Home Minister Amit Shah in Parliament on Friday | PTI

'No farmer death record' remark draws Oppn ire

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) led an eight-party initiative on Friday, demanding Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla to constitute a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) to probe Union Agriculture Minister Narendra Tomar's assertion in Parliament that the government did not have any record of farmer deaths during the ongoing agitations.

A representation was submitted to the Speaker by MPs representing SAD, BSP, NCP, CPI, CPI-M, RLP, J&K National Conference and Shiv Sena. Former minister and MP from Bathinda, Harsimrat Kaur Badal requested representatives of all Opposition parties, including Congress, to join the delegation of MPs meeting the President on Saturday to demand his intervention.

Harsimrat said the MPs pointed out that the agriculture minister had committed a serious lapse by stating the government did not have any record of farmer deaths. "This amounts to whitewashing the sacrifice of the 'annadaata' who have been agitating against the three black agricultural laws." She claimed there was proof of 537 farmers dying.

The MPs said the minister should apologise to the farming community and the Speaker should form a JPC to gather details of the number of lives lost and suggest ways of rehabilitating their families.

The MPs also brought it to the Speaker's notice that the minister had gone on record saying no study had been conducted to understand the apprehensions of the farmers regarding the farm laws. "This is self admission that steps were not taken to take feedback from farmers,'' Harsimrat said.

The MPs also told the Speaker that the government was refusing to either acknowledge or resolve the grievances of farmers. "In fact, attempts are made to defame the farmers and their democratic right to protest by name calling". The MPs said the JPC could also go into this aspect and suggest ways to ensure the voice of the farmers is heard in Parliament.

Corps Commander talks on LAC today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE much-awaited India-China corps commander-level meeting has been fixed for Saturday on the Chinese side. The meeting will take place ahead of the resolution of the standoff in eastern Ladakh.

"The Corps Commanders from the two sides will sit across for the 12th round of talks between the two sides in Moldo tomorrow," said a military source. The meeting is due to start at 10.30 am.

The Moldo meeting hut is on the Chinese side of the Line of Actual Control. Ladakh accounts for 832 km of the 3,488 km LAC. The corps commanders will try and take the disengagement process ahead. Sources privy to the ground developments said there were good chances that the two sides would agree to disengage from Gogra and Hotspring.

Gandhinagar to host Defence Expo in March

The Ministry of Defence's flagship DefExpo will be held in Gandhinagar from March 11 to 13. DefExpo is Asia's biggest land, naval and homeland security systems exhibition.

The 12th round of talks comes more than three months after the previous round on April 9. Between May 2020 and April this year, there have been 11 rounds of such talks.

It was in the first week of May last year when the troops from both sides clashed at Finger 4 on the North bank of the Pangong lake leading to a standoff. It further expanded to Hotspring, Gogra, Galwan and also in Depsang and Demchok. The standoff led to a deadly clash at Galwan in June 2020 in which 20 Indian soldiers, including an officer, were martyred. An unspecified number of Chinese soldiers too died.

For the first time in the history of border negotiations between India and China, the talks involved Senior Higher Military Commanders (SHCML). A distinct change this time is the increase in onground friction positions, total 17, along the 832-km LAC in Ladakh. There is an increase of five friction points which include KM120 in the Galwan Valley, PP15 and PP17A in the Shyok Sula area, Rechin La, and Rezang La, officials said.

Before May 5, 2020, there were two Mutually Agreed Disputed Areas (Trig Heights and Demchok) and 10 Areas of Differing Perceptions at Samar Lungpa, Depsang Bulge, Areas east of Pt 6556, Crossing of Charding Nullah, Kongka La, Pangong Tso, Spanggur, Mt Sajjum, Dumchele, Chumar.

With rise in disputes, there has been an increase in the communication between the PLA and the Indian Army in order to resolve the protracted tensions along the LAC, which led to deadly duels in Galwan and claims lives on both sides.

There have been instances of frantic talks — up to five hotline calls in a day. The two sides were engaged in hotline talks as many as 1,450 times in the tense period. The hotlines have been set up at Daulet Beg Oldi and Chushul in Ladakh. "There has been no gap in communication as there were 11 SCML, 10 HCML, 55 Delegation Level (Sector Commander or Brigadier level) talks," said a source tracking developments.

Success & scores above 95% higher than recent years in CBSE results

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) on Friday declared results of Class XII board examinations, after having allowed the schools to evaluate students under a special formula necessitated by the pandemic.

As per results, 99.37% students passed the examination this year, which is much higher than the 89% last year and 83.40% in 2019. A total of 99.13% of boys and 99.67% of girls passed. No merit list or list of toppers was prepared. The CBSE said: "As a special case, the board will neither declare subject-wise merit list of students and not issue merit certificates to students."

Among the 16 regions of the board, Trivandrum with 99.89%, had the highest pass percentage. Patna with 98.91% had the lowest.

This year, the students were scored on the basis of a 30:30:40 formula, in which 30% weightage was given to result in Class X, 30% from Class XI and 40% from Class XII, which included internals assessments, unit tests and term examinations that schools had conducted internally.

The board said that the results of 60,443 students, who registered under private and correspondence category, will be declared after their exams are held on August 15 and 16.

As per data shared by the CBSE, 13,04,561 candidates appeared for the exam this year and 12,96,318 passed. Number of students who scored more than 95% is the highest in the last three years. More than 70,000 students scored 95 and above, as compared to 38,686 in 2020 and 17,693 in 2019.

Of the total candidates who passed the exam this year, more than 1.5 lakh students scored more than 90%, similar to 2020. But in 2019, this number was lower, at about 94,000 students.

The Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalaya and Kendriya Vidyalayas saw the best performances, as has been the trend over the last several years, with pass percentage of 99.94% and 100%, respectively.

Thumbs-up of experts for mixing of vaccines

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

WITH the country's apex drug regulator's expert panel on Covid-19 recommending trials to assess the safety and efficacy after mixing vaccines, vaccinologists and experts pointed out that this may pave the way for a more rational expansion of the inoculation drive.

The subject expert committee on Covid-19 of the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation had on Thursday endorsed two applications to examine the mixing/matching of vaccines. A final go-ahead from the Drug Controller General of India is awaited.

These applications included a submission by the Christian Medical College, Vellore, to study mixing of Covishield and Covaxin in 300 volunteers. Bharat Biotech sought permission to mix Covaxin with a nasal vaccine still under trial.

"The applications seeking interchangeability of vaccine doses were considered and it was felt that as similar studies abroad have shown encouraging results, we should also generate our own data," said a source in the CDSCO. "Hope the DCGI approves this and studies kick off soon."

Most Covid vaccines are given in two doses, but studies in other countries back the idea that mixing the Oxford-AstraZeneca (Covishield in India) and the Pfizer vaccines triggers an immune response similar to, or even stronger than, two doses of either vaccine.

Vaccine experts said it will be a good move and help the country be better prepared for the future. "This is a good proposition, given the variant strain that has been driving the pandemic are far more dangerous than the original strain," said a vaccinologist of a government institute.

Public health researcher Oommen John stressed the study should be aiming to reap the benefits of available vaccines, while saying this approach has been well tested in epidemics such as Ebola. "With the fast-emerging variants such as delta, the country needs to be prepared with evidence on potential benefits of immune response and boosting, through the mix and match approach," he said.

John added that a question that needs to be addressed is whether there would be better protective immunity when vaccines are combined?

Inoculation of pregnant women: TN tops chart

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

OVER 2.27 lakh pregnant women have taken shots within a month of Covid-19 vaccination centres opening for them. Tamil Nadu recorded the highest number, the Centre said on Friday.

The Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare approved inoculations against the virus for pregnant women from July 2, based on recommendations from the National Technical Advisory Group on Immunization. Pregnant women can opt for vaccine slots at any point during pregnancy. Over the last four weeks, Tamil Nadu vaccinated 78,838 pregnant women followed by Andhra Pradesh with 34,228, Odisha with 29,821, Madhya Pradesh with 21,842, Kerala with 18,423 and Karnataka with 16,673, as per ministry data.

The government said service providers and frontline health workers were trained to counsel pregnant women and their families. They focused on routine antenatal care and briefed them about the importance of vaccination during pregnancy. The states further sensitized their teams of government and private facilities on the need for vaccination, the Centre added. Studies showed that Covid-19 infection during pregnancy may result in rapid deterioration of health, escalating the risk of severe disease affecting the fetus too.

India to focus on 3 priorities at UNSC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INDIA will focus on three priorities — peacekeepking, maritime security and counter-terrorism — during its presidency at the United Nations Security Council (UNSC).

New Delhi will assume the rotating presidency of UNSC from Sunday and again in December next year, during the later part of its tenure as a non-permanent member of the council. "There are three major areas we will focus on. Maritime security, peacekeeping and counter-terrorism. We will focus on these themes through three signature events," India's Permanent Representative to the UN, Ambassador TS Tirumurti said on Friday.

Saying that maritime security has always been high on India's foreign policy, Tirumurti said India has been a net security provider, especially in the Indian Ocean Region. "Consequently, we believe that it is time for the Security Council to take a holistic approach to the issue of maritime security that safeguards common prosperity and security interests."

According to the permanent representative, India will continue to emphasise on counter-terrorism. "Counter-terrorism is a national priority. We are firmly against terrorism in all its forms and manifestations, and believe that there could be no justification whatsoever for terrorism," he said.

Peacekeeping, according to Tirumurti, is close to India's heart. India contributes maximum to the UN Peacekeeping forces with over 5,000 personnel serving in various missions. Over 150 Indians lost their lives while serving in the UNPKF. "It is incumbent upon us to ensure that their safety and security are given the highest importance. Therefore, in the larger context of peacekeeping, we will be focusing on how to ensure the safety of peacekeepers, especially by using better technology, and how to bring perpetrators of crimes against peacekeepers to justice," Tirumurti said.

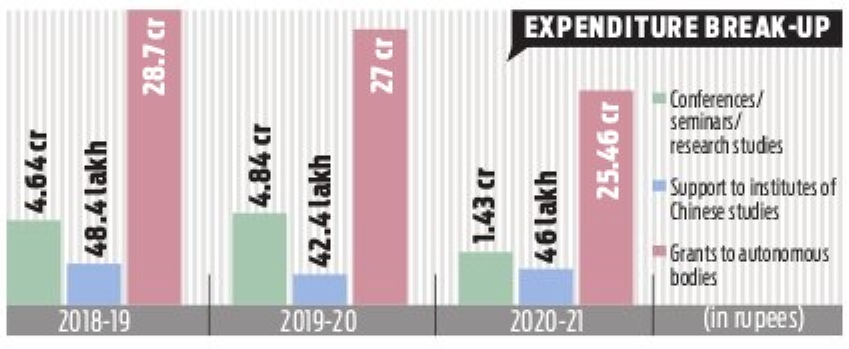
ACADEMIC INTEREST

Seminars get major chunk of MEA research grants

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A major chunk of research grants for international relations from the Ministry of External Affairs goes into organising conferences and seminars. Autonomous bodies like Indian Council of World Affairs and RIS get the largest grant, but a major chunk of it is spent on organising seminars and conferences, data reveals.

In 2018-19, around ₹4.64 crore was spent towards seminars and conferences, while institutes of Chinese studies got a grant of ₹48.4 lakh. The corresponding figures for the following year were ₹4.84 crore and ₹42 lakh, respectively. However, expenditure on conferences came down drastically in 2020-21, to around ₹1.43 crore, largely due to the pandemic.



In the case of autonomous bodies like the ICWA and RIS, combined grants have been on a decline. While in 2018-19, the total grant received by the two bodies was ₹28 crore, it fell to ₹27 crore the next year. In 2020-2021, the combined grant was around ₹25 crore.

While officials say conferences/seminars are an integral part of research on international relations, academic institutes say the fall in grants will lead to a gap in academic and practical work.

"International relations is a practical realm of academics. It's important to have first hand practical experience. Conferences and seminars are a great way to gain practical knowledge of international relations," a ministry official said.

Opposing his view was a research scholar from the Institute of Chinese Studies, who felt that academic research deserved more attention. "I cannot discount the importance of seminars and conferences. They are a great way to learn things and also help build contacts for persons concerned. But to organise them at the cost of academic research is not correct. Unless there is research, it would be impossible for the persons concerned to be significant at the conferences and seminars," she said.

ECONOMIC BLOCKADE

Trucks from Tripura bring essential items to Mizoram

FCI to transport rice, arrangements being made to get fuel and LPG

WITH the economic blockade imposed by residents of Assam's Cachar and Hailakandi districts since July 27 choking the supply of essential items, Mizoram has turned to Tripura.

Several trucks carrying essential commodities entered the state on Friday from the Tripura side.

The blockade was imposed on two critical roads, which lead to Mizoram via Cachar and Hailakandi, as a mark of protest against the July 26 violence on the interstate border that left six Assam Police personnel dead and scores of others, including an IPS officer, injured. Mizoram's Food, Civil Supplies, and Consumer Affairs Minister K Lalrinliana said the state was "facilitating" the transportation of essential items from Manipur.

Mizoram has a 164-km-long border with Assam, a 95-km long border with Manipur, and a 66-km long border with Tripura.

Lalrinliana said the Food Corporation of India (FCI) would transport rice to Mizoram from Tripura. The state government has signed an agreement with the FCI in this regard, he said.

According to the minister, Mizoram has sufficient stock of rice. He said the state government held talks with Manipur to arrange fuel and LPG cylinders.

"The state government is taking all steps to make sure there is no crisis of essential commodities," Lalrinliana said.

Chief Minister Zoramthanga was optimistic that the Centre would help resolve the border problem. "I still hope for an amicable solution to the #AssamMizoramBorderTension from the Central Government," he tweeted on Friday.

The District Magistrate of Mizoram's Kolasib issued a public notice on Friday stating that there would be no restriction on the movement of nonresidents of Mizoram traveling through Kolasib.

"Mizo residents are also advised to cause no disturbance and harm to non-locals within Kolasib district in connection with the interstate boundary issue on Mizoram-Assam border," the notice reads.

Axe could fall on 6 Gehlot ministers

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

MAJOR changes are on the cards in Rajasthan as the AICC general secretary Ajay Maken has indicated that several ministers in the Gehlot cabinet may be shifted to the state Congress unit while the CM has struck a conciliatory note with the Pilot camp.

Maken was in Jaipur for the past three days and held one-on-one meetings with 115 party MLAs and other legislators supporting the Gehlot government. Speaking to the media after meeting the office bearers on Friday, he said that a decision has been taken to constitute district Congress committees and finalise other appointments in the state.

"I spoke to all MLAs and party leaders in Rajasthan and discussed how we can work for the upcoming state elections and retain our position. We will soon appoint district and block-level chiefs in the state," Maken said.

Maken confirmed that he sought feedback on cabinet expansion and the performance of the government adding that he will submit a report to the party's central leadership.

Significantly, before leaving for Delhi, Maken also said, "there are some ministers who have come forward and said that they are ready to work in the organisation to strengthen the party and I am very thankful to them."

Though he refused to specify the number of such ministers, Maken's statement is seen as a clear hint that some current ministers may be dropped in the reshuffle.

Meanwhile, the CM had advised all Congress MLAs to "forget and forgive" the old grievances towards the Pilot camp during a dinner hosted at his residence on Thursday for the MLAs.

However, Pilot himself was notably absent in the meeting as he was away in the national capital.

Sources in the Congress party said that around six ministers of the current 21 may be dropped, 10 new ministers inducted and a change in portfolios are likely in the rejig expected in early August.

Clip of Maha DCP asking constable to get free biryani goes viral, probe on

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA Home Minister Dilip Walse Patil has ordered an enquiry after a deputy commissioner of police was heard in a viral audio clip asking a constable to get her mutton biryani and other items from a popular restaurant in her jurisdiction free of cost.

In the audio clip, Priyanka Nanaware, DCP of Pune's Vishram Baug area, is heard asking the constable to get her mutton and chicken biryani along with dry-roasted prawn and Bombay ducks from the famous SP's Biryani House.

After the audio clip went viral on social media, Patil ordered an inquiry and vowed to take action, if the officer is found guilty. He called it a serious matter. "I too heard the clip and I asked the Pune commissioner to conduct an inquiry and submit a report. Then, the state government will take appropriate action," the home minister said.

Meanwhie, Nanaware said the clip is doctored and meant to tarnish her reputation. She said she was about to get a good posting and someone has done this to spoil her career.

In the audio clip, Nanaware is heard asking why cops should pay for food from any hotel in their jurisdiction. She said they are entitled to free food. She tells the constable that her husband likes mutton biryani, and so, it must be bought. She is also heard asking the cop to get some chicken gravy. She is heard saying she likes the biryani from Blue Nile Restaurant as it is not very spicy and oily. However, since that hotel is not in their jurisdiction, she said she will check it later.

Koregaon accused gets bail to attend mother's rites

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

THE Bombay High court on Friday granted a nine-day bail to Bhima Koregaon accused Advocate Surendra Gadling to attend his mother's death anniversary.

A division bench comprising judges S S Shinde and N J Jamadar granted him bail from August 13 to 21. Gadling was arrested three years ago over alleged links to Maoists.

He was arrested under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act. Gadling had approached the High Court in appeal under Section 21 (4) of the National Investigation Agency Act, challenging the Supreme Court order, refusing him an emergency bail last year after his mother died of Covid.

Advocate Indira Jaisingh, appearing for Gadling, submitted that since family members were hospitalised with Covid-19 or were under home isolation in August 2020, his mother's funeral rites— cooling of ashes, rituals and condolence meeting —remained pending.

However, the family has decided to perform the pending rituals on her death anniversary on August 15, 2021.

She demanded bail for her client on humanitarian grounds. However, the investigating agency NIA called this demand a gross abuse of the process of law and courts precious time.

Earlier the NIA court had rejected the Gadling demand of bail to perform the rituals saying the time has already passed so he would not be required to perform the rituals or funeral rites.

SC seeks report on Jharkhand judge's death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday took suo motu cognizance of the death of a Jharkhand judge and sought a detailed report from the state's chief secretary and the DGP on the progress of the investigation.

The court further added, "We direct the state secretary and the DGP of Jharkhand to file a report before the registry. We are not interfering with the proceedings going on before the High Court of Jharkhand."

Bengal to continue popular scheme that helped Trinamool keep power

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

THE West Bengal government has set up a state-level committee and three task forces to implement the "Duare Sarkar" scheme twice every year from now.

Duare Sarkar is an inititiave of the state government for the delivery of specific government schemes to the door steps of the people.

The initiative, which was floated ahead of this year's Assembly elections, is widely viewed as a key factor that helped Mamata-led Trinamool Congress come to power for the third straight term.

Headed by Chief Secretary H K Dwivedi, the state-level committee comprises heads of many government departments. It will oversee the functioning of the three task forces—one for Kolkata and two for other districts.

Party leaders have called Mamata's decision to continue the scheme "a smart move"

"The scheme proved to be effective in gaining support of the electorate. The decision to continue the initiative will send a message that winning people's support ahead of the elections was not the only goal of Mamata Banerjee. Instead, it will help her project an image of herself as a people-friendly leader, which will help the TMC against the BJP in the coming years," said a senior leader of the ruling party.

The state government will host camps from August 16 to September 15 in various parts of the state and applications will be scrutinised between September 8 and 23, following which services will be delivered from September 24 to 30. People can apply for a host of state-run schemes at the camps instead of visiting the offices of the district administration.

Along with "Duare Sarkar", the state government is also planning to launch various schemes.

Lakshmir Bhandar is one of the schemes set to be launched. Announced by Mamata ahead of the Assembly elections, the scheme offers women in the state a monthly payout. Under the scheme, a female member of a general caste family would get ₹500 per month. Those from the SC or ST families would get ₹1,000 per month. Apart from this, a health insurance scheme for all and credit cards for students are among the other initiatives being lined up.

More drones spotted in J&K, forces on alert ahead of Aug 5

FAYAZ WANI & SANA SHAKIL @Srinagar/New Delhi

A week after the J&K police shot down a drone carrying a 5-kg IED in Akhnoor in Jammu, three more drones were spotted at three different locations in the border district of Samba in Jammu and Kashmir late on Thursday night.

A security official said one of the drones was spotted near an Army camp in Bari-Brahmana, another near an Indo-Tibetan Border Police camp near Sandi village, and the third one in the Gagwal and Chiladya area near the International Border (IB) late on Thursday evening.

The BSF personnel fired at the drone found in Chiladya, forcing it to retreat and fly back to the Pakistani side.

The two other drones also disappeared after hovering over security installations.

The police and the BSF launched a search operation in the areas over which the drones were spotted to check if they have dropped any weapons. "However, the search operation was called off after nothing incriminating or objectionable was found," he said.

Meanwhile, a high alert was sounded in Jammu after intelligence inputs of a high-profile attack being planned against temples there ahead of the August 5 anniversary of Jammu and Kashmir's bifurcation.

Sources said Pak-sponsored outfits such as J-e-M and Lashkar are believed to be trying hard to execute a major attack in Jammu.

Schools shut, but learning continues in Jharkhand

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

AT a time of crisis when parents are complaining that the learning process of their children is being disrupted due to the lockdown, there are two villages in Jharkhand, which, instead of complaining, launched an initiative to help the children continue to attend attending the classes.

The Gram Sabha and women from Self Help Group (SHG) at Ara and Keram villages, located 45 kilometers from Ranchi, decided to arrange regular tution classes for children so that their education does not get affected. It was decided to continue the classes in two shifts, while maintaining social distancing. Notably, Ara and Keram were praised by Prime Minister Modi in his 'Man Ki Baat' a few months ago for the exemplary work done in the field of water conservation.

According to the President of Nav Jagriti Samiti, the decision was taken after it was found that the children are roaming around here and there due to the lockdown which may spoil their future. Therefore, a Gram Sabha meeting was called and it was decided to arrange tuition classes for them for two hours every day in two shifts, he added.

"Now, classes are being conducted regularly at the government school building, for which, 11 tutors have been arranged and are being paid by the Gram Sabha," said President of Nav Jagriti Samiti, Baburam Gope. Though, the online classes were being conducted by the schools, most children do not have the access to the internet.

Fake letters of BJP MPs & MLAs recommend transfers

Bhopal Police crime branch has started a probe into the use of fake letters in the name of BJP MPs and MLAs, recommending transfers of teachers, tehsildars and hospital nurses in MP. These letters bearing forged signatures were received at the CMO over the last ten days. The transfer window is open till Aug 7.

Who to succeed Thawar Chand Gehlot in RS?

While the BJP is yet to decide on who will succeed ex-union minister and newly appointed Karnataka Governor Thawar Chand Gehlot in the Rajya Sabha from Madhya Pradesh, names of some political biggies from MP and a few newly inducted union ministers are doing rounds in the BJP. The names include BJP's National General Secretary Kailash Vijayvargiya and the party's National President of SC cell Lal Singh Arya. There is also a strong possibility of the party sending any of the two new union ministers Sarbanand Sonowal or L Murugan to the RS. The Election Commission, however, is yet to declare the date for the election to the RS seat from MP vacated by Gehlot after being appointed as the Governor.

Ex-Congressman Surendra Singh 'Shera Bhaiya' pitched for a Congress ticket for his wife in Khandwa LS by-poll threatening the prospects of former state Congress president Arun Yadav, who had plans to contest from the same seat. He had lost the last two general elections to the BJP veteran Nandkumar Singh Chauhan, whose death necessitated the by-poll. Surendra Singh who had won from Burhanpur district in 2018 assembly polls after being denied ticket by the Congress has family association with the Khandwa LS seat as it has been twice represented by his father and brother in the past.

First evacuation flight with 221 Afghans reaches US

Evacuees include former interpreters and others who fear retaliation from Taliban for having worked with American servicemembers

WASHINGTON

THE first flight evacuating Afghans who worked alongside Americans in Afghanistan brought more than 200 people, scores of them children and babies in arms, to new lives in the United States on Friday, and President Joe Biden said he was proud to welcome them home.

The launch of the evacuation flights, bringing out former interpreters and others who fear retaliation from Afghanistan's Taliban for having worked with American servicemembers and civilians, highlights American uncertainty about how Afghanistan's government and military will fare after the last US combat forces leave that country in the coming weeks. Family members are accompanying the interpreters, translators and others on the flights out.

The evacuation flight, an airliner, carried 221 Afghans under the special visa programme, including 57 children and 15 babies, according to an internal US government document. It touched down in Dulles, Virginia, just outside Washington, DC, after midnight, according to the FlightAware tracking service.

Biden called the flight "an important milestone as we continue to fulfill our promise to the thousands of Afghan nationals who served shoulder-to-shoulder with American troops and diplomats over the last 20 years in Afghanistan." He said he wanted to honour the military veterans, diplomats and others in the US who have advocated for the Afghans. "Most of all," Biden said in a statement, "I want to thank these brave Afghans for standing with the United States, and today, I am proud to say to them: 'Welcome home.'"

Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin lauded the Afghans for their work alongside Americans and said their arrival demonstrates the US government's commitment to them. But a refugee agency said the Biden administration appeared to be still scrambling to figure out the resettlement of thousands more of the Afghans, and it urged Biden to bring them quickly to the US or a US territory, such as Guam.

"To date, there is simply no clear plan as to how the vast majority of our allies will be brought to safety," Krish O'Mara Vignarajah, president of the Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Service resettlement agency, said of the Afghan interpreters. "We cannot in good conscience put them at risk in third countries with unreliable human rights records, or where the Taliban may be able to reach them," the resettlement official said.

The Biden administration calls the effort Operation Allies Refuge. The operation has broad backing from Republican and Democratic lawmakers and from veterans groups. Supporters cite repeated instances of Taliban forces targeting Afghans who worked with Americans or with the Afghan government.

Congress on Thursday overwhelmingly approved legislation that would allow an additional 8,000 visas and $500 million in funding for the Afghan visa programme. Biden announced earlier this year the US would withdraw all its troops from Afghanistan by September 11, honouring a withdrawal agreement struck by former President Donald Trump.

He later said the US military operation would end on August 31, calling it "overdue." Some administration officials have expressed surprise at the extent and speed of Taliban gains of territory in the countryside since then. Biden said that although US troops are leaving Afghanistan, the US will keep supporting Afghanistan through security assistance to Afghan forces and humanitarian aid. AP

Hong Kong protester gets 9-yr jail in 1st security case

HONG KONG

A PRO-DEMOCRACY protester was sentenced on Friday to nine years in prison in the closely watched first prosecution under Hong Kong's national security law as the ruling Communist Party tightens control over the territory.

Tong Ying-kit, 24, was convicted of inciting secession and terrorism for driving his motorcycle into a group of police officers at a July 1, 2020, rally. He carried a flag bearing the banned slogan, "Liberate Hong Kong, revolution of our times".

President Xi Jinping's government imposed the law on the former British colony last year following protests that erupted in mid-2019. Beijing has rolled back the territory's Western-style civil liberties and tried to crush a pro-democracy movement by jailing activists. The public's role in picking Hong Kong's legislators has been reduced.

Critics accuse Beijing of violating the autonomy promised when Hong Kong returned to China in 1997 and wrecking its status as a global business centre.

Briton cat killer gets five-year jail term

London: A former security guard who knifed nine cats to death in night-time attacks in the English seaside city of Brighton was sentenced on Friday to more than five years in prison. Steve Bouquet, 54, was convicted of attacking 16 cats, nine of them fatally, between late 2018 and mid-2019 in Brighton. He was caught after the owner of one of the dead cats set up a security camera. Bouquet denied involvement in the attacks, in which some cat owners found their pets bleeding on the doorstep. But prosecutors said a photo of a dead cat was found on his phone, and a knife with feline blood and Bouquet's DNA on it was found during a search of his home.

Offer unvaccinated $100: Biden to states

Washington: President Joe Biden is asking states and localities to offer unvaccinated residents $100 to get their Covid shots. The cash reward for vaccination was one idea in Biden's latest plan to boost lagging vaccination rates in many parts of the nation. The core of his new plan is a requirement for federal workers to disclose their vaccination status to their agencies. Biden is pointing to anecdotal evidence that a $100 reward will get results. The White House says the Kroger grocery store chain tried it and saw vaccination rates jump to 75% from 50% among employees.

Ship tied to Israeli billionaire attacked off Oman, 2 killed

DUBAI

AN attack on an oil tanker linked to an Israeli billionaire killed two crew members off Oman in the Arabian Sea, authorities said on Friday, marking the first fatalities after years of assaults targeting shipping in the region.

No one immediately claimed responsibility for the Thursday night raid on the Liberian-flagged tanker Mercer Street. However, a US official said it appears a so-called "suicide drone" was used in the attack, raising the possibility that a government or a militia group was behind it.

The US Navy rushed to the scene following the attack and was escorting the tanker to a safe harbour, a London-based ship management company said on Friday.

The assault represented the worst-known maritime violence so far in regional attacks on shipping since 2019. The US, Israel and others have blamed the attacks on Iran amid the unravelling of Tehran's nuclear deal with world powers. Iran now already appears poised to take an even tougher approach with the West as the country prepares to inaugurate a hardline protege of Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei as president next week.

The attack on Thursday night targeted the tanker just northeast of the Omani island of Masirah, over 300 km southeast of Oman's capital, Muscat. London-based Zodiac Maritime, part of Israeli billionaire Eyal Ofer's Zodiac Group, said the attack killed two crew members, one from the United Kingdom and the other from Romania. It did not name them, nor did it describe what happened in the assault. It said it believed no other crew members on board were harmed.

"At the time of the incident the vessel was in the northern Indian Ocean, travelling from Dar es Salaam to Fujairah with no cargo onboard," the statement from Zodiac Maritime said, naming ports in Tanzania and the United Arab Emirates respectively.

Late on Friday, Zodiac Maritime said the tanker was sailing under the control of her crew 'to a safe location with a US naval escort'. AP

Media restrictions raise freedom of expression concerns

Bangkok: Thailand implemented new regulations on Friday that appeared to broaden the government's ability to restrict media reports and social media posts about the coronavirus pandemic, raising immediate concerns that authorities will seek to stifle criticism. While Prime Minister Prayuth Chan-ocha has long sought to crack down on what he calls fake news and has a government department devoted to it, the new regulations include the ability to prosecute people for distributing 'news that may cause public fear'.

Dinghy with migrants sinks, 3 go missing

ATHENS (GREECE)

A SEARCH and rescue operation is under way on Friday near Greece's island of Lesbos along the maritime border with Turkey, after an inflatable dinghy carrying migrants apparently sank, authorities said. As many as 10 people had been rescued and another three were believed to be missing, Greece's coast guard said. Two coast guard patrol boats, a vessel from the European border agency Frontex, one helicopter and two aircraft, as well as a vessel that had been sailing nearby, were involved in the search operation, the coast guard said. According to the Greek coast guard, the dinghy appeared to have sunk inside Turkish territorial waters. AP

Myanmar leaders 'weaponising' pandemic, allege activists

BANGKOK

WITH coronavirus deaths rising in Myanmar, allegations are growing from residents and human rights activists that the military government, which seized control in February, is using the pandemic to consolidate power and crush opposition.

In the last week, the per capita death rate in Myanmar surpassed those of Indonesia and Malaysia to become the worst in Southeast Asia. The country's crippled health care system has rapidly become overwhelmed with new patients sick with Covid. Supplies of medical oxygen are running low, and the government has restricted its private sale in many places, saying it is trying to prevent hoarding. But that has led to widespread allegations that the stocks are being directed to government supporters and military-run hospitals.

At the same time, medical workers have been targeted after spearheading a civil disobedience movement that urged professionals and civil servants not to cooperate with the government, known as the State Administrative Council.

"They have stopped distributing personal protection equipment and masks, and they will not let civilians who they suspect are supporting the democracy movement be treated in hospitals, and they're arresting doctors who support the civil disobedience movement," said Yanghee Lee, the UN's former Myanmar human rights expert and a founding member of the Special Advisory Council for Myanmar.

"With the oxygen, they have banned sales to civilians or people who are not supported by the SAC, so they're using something that can save the people against the people," she said. "The military is weaponising Covid."

Myanmar's Deputy Information Minister Zaw Min Tun did not respond to questions about the allegations, but with growing internal and external pressure to get the pandemic under control, the leadership has been on a public relations offensive.

In the state-run Global New Light of Myanmar newspaper this week, several articles highlighted the government's efforts, including what it called a push to resume vaccinations and increase oxygen supplies.

Senior Gen Min Aung Hlaing, the military commander who heads the SAC, was cited as saying that efforts were also being made to seek support from the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and unspecified 'friendly countries.' "Efforts must be made for ensuring better health of the State and the people,' he was quoted as saying. Myanmar reported another 342 deaths Thursday, and 5,234 new infections. Its 7-day rolling average of deaths per 1 million people rose to 6.29 — more than double the rate of 3.04 in India at peak of crisis in May. AP

Russia blames space station lab incident on software failure

MOSCOW

A RUSSIAN space official on Friday blamed a software problem on a newly docked science lab that briefly knocked the International Space Station out of position. The space station lost control of its orientation for 47 minutes on Thursday, when Russia's Nauka science lab accidentally fired its thrusters a few hours after docking, pushing the orbiting complex from its normal configuration. The station's position is key for getting power from solar panels and or communications. Communications with ground controllers also blipped out twice for a few minutes.

Vladimir Solovyov, flight director of the space station's Russian segment, blamed the incident on a "short-term software failure". In a statement released on Friday, Solovyov said because of the failure, a direct command to turn on the lab's engines was mistakenly implemented.

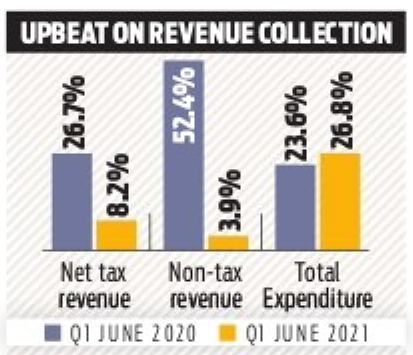
Fiscal deficit narrows to 18.2% of Budget estimate

Touches 2.74 lakh cr in Q1; govt confident to meet the target of 6.8%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

UPBEAT ON REVENUE COLLECTION



BETTER than expected revenue collection has helped the government to narrow its fiscal deficit for the first quarter (April-June) to ₹2.74 lakh crore or 18.2% of the full year's Budget estimate, giving it the confidence to achieve its fiscal deficit target easily.

According to data released by the Controller General of Accounts (CGA) on Friday, the fiscal deficit was at ₹2,74,245 crore by June 30. The Fiscal deficit situation this financial year looks even better than the prepandemic levels. In 2019-20, the fiscal deficit till June was ₹4,32,055 crore.

For the whole financial year fiscal deficit was 9.3% of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP), better than 9.5% projected in the revised estimates in the Budget in February.

"We are sure to achieve the fiscal deficit target. We have managed economy better in the second wave by allocating money where the need is and curtailing the wasteful expenditure. Also the revenue receipts are much better. We should do better than expected," a senior official in the finance ministry said.

For the current financial year, the government has kept the fiscal deficit target at 6.8% of GDP or ₹15,06,812 crore.

As per CGA data, the government received ₹5.47 lakh crore, including ₹4.12 lakh crore of tax revenues, ₹1.27 lakh crore of non-tax revenues and ₹7,402 crore of non-debt capital receipts.

So far it has managed to receive ₹3,996 crore from the disinvestment proceeds.

According to the statement by the finance ministry, the Centre has transferred ₹1,17,524 crore to state governments as devolution of share of taxes by the government of India up to June 2021.

In terms of expenditure, by the end of June, CGA said the government spent ₹8.21 lakh crore, which was 23.6% of the Budget estimate out of which ₹7.10 lakh crore was on revenue account and ₹1.11 lakh crore was on capital account.

Out of the total revenue expenditure, ₹1.84 lakh crore was for interest payments and about ₹1 lakh crore was on account of major subsidies.

"The sharp jump in tax and non-tax receipts and mild contraction in revenue expenditure, curtailed the government of India's fiscal deficit to an eight-year low in Q1 FY22-less than half of last-year's level of ₹6.6 lakh crore recorded during the nationwide lockdown," said Aditi Nayar, chief economist at ICRA.

Core sector growth eases to 8.6% in June

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

June output grows slower than in May

The growth was lower than 16.3% recorded in May. In June 2020, the core sector output contracted 12.4% due to the restrictions imposed across the country to curb Covid infections.

INDIA'S eight core sector industries' output rose by 8.9% in June on account of lower base, however the growth was lower than 16.3% recorded in May.

In June 2020, the core sector output contracted 12.4% due to the restrictions imposed across the country to control the spread of Covid-19.

On a sequential basis, the core sector output, captured by the index of eight core industries (ICI), grew 1.1%, even as several states across the country kickstarted the unlock process.

"While the core index rose in MoM terms in June 2021, it remained below the April 2021 level, particularly on account of cement, electricity and petroleum products, consistent with the picture of an incomplete recovery revealed by various other high frequency indicators. Moreover, the core sector index in June 2021 was a moderate 4.7% lower than the pre-Covid level of June 2019, on account of all the components except fertilisers and natural gas," Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist at ICRA, said.

According to the data released by the commerce ministry, the growth rate of index of eight core industries during April-June 2021-22 stood at 25.3% as compared to the corresponding period of last FY.

"For Q1 FY2022 as a whole, the core sector recorded a base-effect led YoY expansion of 25%, while remaining 4.5% lower than the pre-Covid level of Q1 FY2020, reflecting the impact of the second wave of Covid-19 on economic activity," Nayar said.

For the month, barring crude oil all sector registered growth. Coal production increased 7.4% YoY in June, while crude oil production saw 1.8% decline. Natural gas and petroleum refinery products increased 20.6% and 2.4%, respectively.

Fertilisers production in June increased 2%, while steel production increased significantly by 25% YoY.

We expect BURGERKI's premium multiples to sustain on account of the big shift in its operating model, strong growth prospects, and aggressive store network addition. Furthermore, its capped royalty rate of 5% till 2039 offers visibility on margin expansion, unlike in the case of WLDL where the tremendous margin expansion efforts being made by the management will be offset by a staggered increase in its royalty rate to 8% in FY27.

HONG KONG

HONG KONG'S ECONOMIC RECOVERY LOSES STEAM IN Q2

Hong Kong's economy lost some momentum in Q2 but still expanded by 7.5% from a year earlier, as domestic and global activity continued to recover from last year's pandemic-induced slump. Despite some slowdown in robust export growth, the government said the city's economic recovery remains on track as global demand picks up and local coronavirus fears ease. On a quarterly basis, the economy contracted by a seasonally adjusted 1% in April-June -- its first decline since the second quarter of 2020. For the first half of 2021, economy grew by 7.8% over a year earlier. The government maintained its full-year growth forecast at 3.5%-5.5%. Hong Kong's economy fell into its longest recession on record in early 2019, weighed down by huge anti-government protests followed by the pandemic in 2020. Seasonally adjusted unemployment slipped to 5.5% in April-June, from 6% in March-May and 6.4% in February-April. Exports jumped 33% in June, their eighth straight month of growth.

NORTH KOREA

N KOREA'S ECONOMY IN CRISIS DUE TO COVID, SANCTIONS

North Korea's economy suffered its biggest contraction in 23 years in 2020 as it was battered by continued UN sanctions, Covid-19 lockdown measures and bad weather, South Korea's central bank said on Friday. The Bank of Korea (BOK) gives the most reliable estimates of economic output in the reclusive North, but other experts said the situation could be even worse. Kim Byeong-yeon, an economics professor at Seoul National University who specialises in North Korea, estimated that the economy there could have shrunk up to 20% from 2017-20, taking into account the role of informal markets which he said the BOK tends to overestimate during downturns. The BOK said GDP in the North contracted 4.5% last year in real terms -- the worst since 1997 and reversing a 0.4% growth in 2019, the first expansion in three years. The BOK has released annual estimates on the North's economic output since 1991, based on information from the South's intelligence and government and foreign trading agencies.

JAPAN

JAPAN EYES FRESH STIMULUS

Japan will act "without hesitation" to cushion the economic blow from the Covid-19 pandemic, economy minister Yasutoshi Nishimura said on Friday, signalling the government's readiness to compile another spending package as the crisis weighs on growth. Japan decided on Friday to expand states of emergency to three prefectures near Olympic host Tokyo and the western prefecture of Osaka, as Covid-19 cases spike, a move that will delay an already fragile economic recovery. Tokyo has deployed massive stimulus packages totalling $3 trillion over the past year to combat the pandemic, adding to a debt pile that is already the biggest among major economies. Some analysts question whether the money set aside under the packages is used effectively. A record 30.8 trillion yen was left over from the previous fiscal year's budget, Ministry of Finance data showed on Friday, including 4.7 trillion yen set aside for public works spending. "We'll pay close attention to economic conditions, including the impact from infections and state of emergency curbs," Nishimura told a parliament hearing on the government's pandemic response.

Govt tables Bill in Parliament to amend general insurance law

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMID protest from the opposition members, the Centre on Friday tabled a bill to amend the general insurance law which will allow the government to pare its stake in state-owned insurers.

Introducing the Bill, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman insisted that it will not lead to privatisation and assured that its passage will help generate required resources from the Indian markets so that public sector general insurers can design innovative products.

"The apprehensions mentioned by the members are not well-founded at all. What we are trying to do in this is not to privatise. We are bringing some enabling provision so that the government can bring in public, Indian citizens, and common people's participation in the general insurance companies," Sitharaman said, brushing aside the apprehensions.

As per the statement of objects and reasons of The General Insurance Business (Nationalisation) Amendment Bill, 2021, it seeks to remove the requirement that the central government holds not less than 51% of the equity capital in a specified insurer.

She added that for better services to policyholders it has become necessary to amend certain provisions of the Act, as per the Bill.

"Why do we need to raise the resources from the market? Our market can give the money from the retail participants who are Indian citizens. Through that, we can have greater money, bring in better technology infusion and also enable faster growth of such general insurance companies. We need money to run them," she said in the Lok Sabha.

As of date, there are four general insurance companies in the public sector - National Insurance Company Limited, New India Assurance Company Limited, Oriental Insurance Company Limited and the United India Insurance Company Limited. Now, one of these will be privatised for which the government is yet to finalise the name.

EMPLOYEES SEEK GOVT INTERVENTION

Can't ensure job for all existing staff, say new owners of Jet Airways

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

JALAN Kalrock Consortium, the new owners of Jet Airways, in a public notice told the existing staff of Jet Airways that they won't be able to re-employ all of them.

"In the coming days, we intend engaging with many of you to ascertain the role you can play in years to come, in our effort to create history, when Jet Airways becomes airborne again. We cannot commit re-employment to each of you, but can surely say that this company belongs to you and right now, it is not in the interest of your airline to onboard everyone," the consortium said in a statement.

Meanwhile, in a letter to the new civil aviation minister Jyotiraditya Scindia earlier this week, the All India Jet Airways' Officers & Staff Association requested him to take up their issues.

The letter said that a complete injustice has been done to the employees. It said that the dues offered to them is about ₹52 crore which is a miniscule amount compared to the original claim (₹1265 crore) accepted by the resolution professional.

There are over 3,500 employees associated to the airline even after it was grounded in April 2019. However, the consortium plans to have only few hundred workers when Jet restart in services, possibly by December this year. At its peak, Jet had over 20,000 employees.

In June this year, the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) approved the resolution plan submitted by the Kalrock-Jalan consortium for the airline. According to the revival plan, the consortium proposes a payment of about ₹23,000 to each employee as against their submitted dues which ranges anywhere between ₹3 lakh and ₹85 lakh.

Around 95% of the employees are yet to accept the consortium's proposal. Jalan Karlock statement said the proposal will be made only if at least 95% of the people vote in favour of it and they should accept the same in the larger interest of the employees and the beloved airline.

Microsoft in talks to buy stake in OYO?

NEW DELHI: Microsoft is in advanced stages of discussions to pick up a stake in OYO that would value the hospitality firm at about $9 billion (around ₹67,000 crore), according to sources.

While the deal size is not known, sources close to the development said it will not be a significant stake.

The transaction is likely to be completed before the proposed initial public offering (IPO) planned by OYO, for which no definitive timeline has been given.

OYO and Microsoft did not respond to queries seeking comments on the matter.

Earlier this month, OYO had raised a term loan B (TLB) funding of $660 million (nearly ₹4,920 crore) from global institutional investors.

The capital will be used for paring debt and other business investments.

The offer was oversubscribed by 1.7 times and the company received commitments of close to $1 billion from leading institutional investors, OYO had said in a statement.

TLB refers to a tranche of senior secured syndicated credit facility from global institutional investors. PTI

Ashok Leyland arm raises $18 million from US firm

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TWO days after commiting $200 million investment, Ashok Leyland's electric mobility arm Switch Mobility on Friday announced raising $18 mn from Dana Incorporated (Dana), US-based manufacturer of drivetrain and e-propulsion systems.

Following the announcement, shares of Ashok Leyland (AL) surged as much as 10% to ₹137 on the BSE in Friday's early deals. It closed 6% higher at ₹130.80.

Under the agreement, Dana will acquire 1% stake in Switch and be the preferred supplier of electric drivetrain components for the company's e-bus and EV commercial vehicle offering - including e-Axles, gearboxes, motors, inverters, software and controls, and electronics cooling.

Dheeraj Hinduja, Chairman of Switch Mobility, said that the company has plans to lead zero carbon mobility globally through positioning innovative products and solutions with best in class total cost of ownership. "I believe the partnership with Dana will accelerate the process, building on our strong relationship of many years," said Hinduja.

Switch Mobility combines the electrical commercial vehicle operations of Ashok Leyland in India and Optare in UK. On Wednesday, AL had announced that it would invest up to $200 million (nearly ₹1,500 crore) in the next few years to launch new products and expand its presence.

INDIAN OIL Q1 NET PROFIT JUMPS OVER THREE-FOLD TO ₹5,941 CR

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

WITH higher refining margins and inventory gains, Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) posted ₹5,941 crore net profit for the first quarter of the current fiscal year— more than three-fold of ₹1,910.84 crore it recorded during the same period of the previous year, a quarter during which strict lockdowns have destroyed oil demand and squeezed refining margins.

However, the profit was lower by 32% compared to the preceding quarter due to the impact the second wave lockdowns had on mobility.

Speaking to reporters, IOC Chairman Shrikant Madhav Vaidya said that the company's gross refining margin on turning a barrel of crude oil into fuel stood at $6.58, far higher than the $1.98 per barrel recorded in the same period of last year. However, the refining margins included a component of inventory gain, Sandeep Gupta, Director (Finance), IOC, added.

Meanwhile, revenue from operations was higher by 74% year-on-year at ₹1.55 lakh crore. According to Vaidya, petrol consumption reached pre-Covid levels during the first week of July while diesel stands at about 88%.

"If a third wave does not strike, we should reach pre-Covid levels for diesel by Diwali," he said. However, aviation turbine fuel (ATF), which is at 50% of pre-pandemic levels, may take until the end of the fiscal year to reach normal consumption levels, he added.

IOC also announced that it will partner with Malaysia's Petronas for a venture in the natural gas and transportation fuel retail business.

Bandhan Bank net profit dips 32% on higher provisions

New Delhi: Kolkata-based Bandhan Bank on Friday reported a 32% fall in net profit to ₹373 crore for the quarter ended June 2021 as elevated provisions to cover for non-performing assets (NPA) ate into the lender's bottomline. In a regulatory filing, the lender said that provisions on bad loans grew by 62% during the quarter under review. Provisions and contingencies (other than taxes) rose to ₹1,374.9 crore during June quarter this fiscal, from ₹849.1 crore in the corresponding quarter last fiscal. Gross NPA rose to 8.2% in the quarter ended June, from 6.8% as of March and from 1.4% in the year-ago period. Net NPA also grew to 3.3% from 0.5% a year ago, but fell marginally from 3.5% in the preceding quarter, the bank said. At the operating level, profit rose to ₹1,871.1 crore, up 18.1% from a year-ago period.

Next round of telecom tariff hikes has likely begun

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

WITH Bharti Airtel taking the plunge and effectively hiking its entry-level prepaid mobile services plan this week, analysts are of the view that the next round of telecom tariff hikes have likely begun. Especially since both Airtel and Vodafone Idea had hiked postpaid tariffs earlier this month.

Tariff hikes are important for all three private telecom firms, including Reliance Jio, because the industry's average revenue per user (ARPU) metric had taken a dive after the interconnect usage charge (IUC) was stopped this year. But for Airtel and Vodafone Idea, which have to pay AGR dues, they are a bit more important. Vodafone Idea, in particular, faces significant upcoming payments and a shortage of funds.

According to a research note by global brokerage Goldman Sachs, Airtel's move to raise prepaid tariffs increases the probability of a near-term tariff hike in the segment which had contributed 60% of its revenues in FY21.

Airtel has discontinued its ₹49 prepaid plan in all 22 circles, and entry level customers have to now pay ₹79 per month.

The agency also does not expect much subscriber churn to happen since Reliance Jio's plans are at around the same level. "Jio's entry level JioPhone plans start at ₹75 (for minimum 28 days validity) and Bharti's entry-level feature phone pricing now is broadly similar to that of Jio. Since Jio does not have a 2G network, customers would need to purchase a new 4G handset to transition to Jio's network, a significant stumbling block in our view," it said.

This is likely to see Vodafone Idea follow suit since it is in far worse financial condition than Airtel. "Vi has already matched Airtel on post-paid and we expect it to follow suit in prepaid," said IIFL Securities.

Quiet the Games

The Olympic Games are a global celebration of our hopes, our ideals and our values. I commend the IOC for its commitment to making sport inclusive and accessible.
– Laurel Hubbard, New Zealand's transgender weightlifter

LONG IS TOO STRONG

China's Ma Long defended his Olympic title on Friday by beating teammate Fan Zhendong 11-4, 10-12, 11-8, 11-9, 3-11, 11-7. This is for the fourth straight Olympics, Chinese men have swept the table tennis gold and silver medals in singles.

Well done, legend tells her heir apparent

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE baton has been passed to a safe hand — from a legend to an heir apparent. And this is how the legend reacts. Six-time world champion and London Olympics bronze medallist MC Mary Kom had been an inspiration to thousands of boxers, especially women. Mary's tough childhood and struggle have become part of folklore. Among those thousands, there is one with an ever-growing impressive CV too — Lovlina Borgohain. "Mary didi has been an inspiration," she said during an interaction after her win in the quarterfinal against Chinese Taipei's pugilist Nien-Chin Chen in 69kg.

Mary still remembers the day when she recommended Lovlina's name to be enrolled in the Target Olympic Podium Scheme. "I was part of the meeting and I recommended only one name — hers," she recollects. "I thought she was good and has the potential to excel. She has proved me right."

The medal has eased Mary's anxiety too especially after her shocking loss in Thursday's close bout against Ingrit Valencia of Colombia. "She is a very hardworking boxer. She puts in a lot of effort and is sincere in her training. The way she practices and her determination is commendable. During the preparation also she had to undergo so much of hardship, including Covid, injury and even in her personal life. To come out here and do so well because winning medal in Olympics is not easy."

"I try and help out whosoever wants in the camp. She also asks me sometimes. Especially how to fight against boxers who are shorter than you. She is a tall boxer and I tell her, 'you are a tall boxer so you don't need to come too close to land punches. You can land those from a distance. And always stay away from opponent's blows. You have a good reach and you should take advantage of that. You hit your punches and go out of range'."

Mary feels for the people of Northeast, this will be a momentous occasion. "Weightlifter Mirabai (Chanu) had won a silver and now Lovlina; one in Manipur and now in Assam, so for the region this will inspire more youngsters to take up sport and excel. We must keep this tempo alive. Earlier, it was very difficult being from the Northeast but now things are changing and will change further. I just want to wish her all the luck. Do well in semifinals and if she manages it, she should win the gold. All the best Lovlina."

LOVELY-NA

AP

Having endured a stressful year, Assamese boxer, who defeated Covid, assures India of second medal at Tokyo

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

FOR the last year, Lovlina Borgohain couldn't even think about training. She was struggling to get her life together. Her mother, Mamoni, was ailing and her heart was at home. She yearned to be beside her. Torn between profession and family, it was testing times for her. But she had to keep her focus on boxing. The sport that has now given her a chance to mend life of those she loves. Her mother is now recovering and the medal has come as a potion to soothe all they had to endure in the last few months.

The nagging illness first surfaced in 2015 after some medical complications while undergoing treatment in Golaghat, Assam. It took a serious turn in the back end of last year. The 23-year-old was under a lot of stress. With the pandemic and an uncertain future, it was getting more and more difficult for her to keep focus. Something not ideal for elite boxers.

Lovlina's family had taken her mother to Kolkata for treatment — an eventual kidney transplant — in October. During that period, she took a break from the national camp to be with her. As fate would have it, she contracted Covid-19 on her return. She was in isolation, spending lonely nights fighting the demons in the head in a hotel room. She was also forced to miss a crucial Italy trip for training and competition last year (October to December). All that she could do was train online. The Boxing Federation of India helped her all through out whenever she needed.

"It was very difficult. The amount of time I should have spent with her, I could not. The issue had started during lockdown. Even during the operation, I could not be with her. I could just go there for one day. I feel bad a lot," Lovlina, who competes in 69kg, recalled. The stressful times had continued until her mother underwent an operation successfully earlier this year in February. "She was under a lot of stress then. We were in Kolkata. She stayed for a couple of days and left after the operation," Tiken, Lovlina's father, said.

When she stepped inside the ring against the fancied Nien-Chin Chen of Chinese Taipei, her sole target was to land punches, close down her opponent and swivel away. Attack and don't get hit. So when she put up that fight 'without strategy' in the ongoing Tokyo Olympics to ensure a medal (India's second) on Friday, it was cathartic. After an arduous year filled with challenges, the 69-kg pugilist, who usually prefers to keep to herself, could finally afford to smile during a virtual interaction.

"I had lost four times against her in the past. So I wanted to prove myself, this was a great chance. I could avenge those defeats here. I didn't have any strategy because the opponent can catch them. I just wanted to enter the ring and see how it goes and deal with the situation then. It was a great feeling. It was great fun," Lovlina said.

Challenges are not new to Lovlina. Coming from a humble background, she has seen her father struggle to keep the family afloat.

She has seen how he helped her and her twin sisters (Licha and Lima) chase their dreams. Like a quintessential Assamese family, all ploughed on to help the youngest child realise her Olympic dream.

Whether pursuing sports or studies, Tiken always supported her and the two sisters. A farmer by profession, he had to work in a tea garden to generate more income. Her twin sisters were initially into Muay Thai and that's where Lovlina got her first taste of combat sport. She followed their footsteps, before switching to boxing in 2012. Seeing their enthusiasm, Tiken decided to support them. Few people in their village also pitied her parents for having no sons. Her mother would ask her to focus on her goals and prove them they're strong, or do better. "It was her dream. She had told us that she'll bring home an Olympic medal. I hope she can reach the final," Tiken said.

Having completed the first task of assuring a medal, she is now aiming to build on the momentum and come back with a gold medal. "I don't want to stop at bronze, I want to go for gold," the third Indian boxer to win a medal at Olympics declared.

Now and then: Forces behind Lovlina's rise

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

WHEN Lovlina Borgohain was dancing around the ring, landing those punches, two people were glued to their TV screens watching history unfold.

When the referee raised Lovlina's hand, signalling her semifinal progress, her 'mother' could not be prouder. Lovlina's coach Sandhya Gurung, who shares a special bond with her ward, is generally stern when it comes to giving Lovlina boxing drills. Their relationship is like a mother-daughter. "She performed as expected, I'm happy of course. That's what you want your wards to do," Sandhya, who's known Lovlina since her sub-junior days, says.

Even though Lovlina was keen on having Sandhya by her side due to the cap on the number of support staff, Sandhya had left a special instruction for her before her departure. "She was saying plenty of things, saying 'I'll miss all the training sessions'. I had told her just think that I'm there in your mind. Just think about my voice... me giving you instructions and then get going during your training in my absence."

In normal circumstances, Sandhya would usually be the vocal one, egging her ward from the ringside. This time it was no different, albeit from far away in front of her TV screen. "I thought she didn't deliver the kind of punches she wanted to. I usually shout a lot by the ringside. Raffaele Bergamasco gets mad at me sometimes for overdoing it. But I feel that's necessary sometimes. So, I was shouting and making analysis of her performance here," she says.

Her coaching mantra has worked wonders for Lovlina, who has medalled in big events apart from this Olympic hit. Under her guidance, Lovlina has gradually learnt to keep away fears that would taunt her in the past. "Now, she has improved a lot in that aspect and has started playing with confidence. She can still improve."

Delighted after Lovlina's win, Abhishek Malviya recalled the time he met Lovlina for the first time. "She was taller than the rest and had long hair then," he says. That was in 2012 when the sport was introduced to her.

Under the close watch of Padum Boro and Abhishek, Lovlina had her early lessons after being getting admitted to SAI Regional Centre, Guwahati. "She was part of the trials. There was a football coach who told us this girl would go on to do big things. I used to be tough on her. Jamuna Boro (India boxer) was also there," Abhishek, who is currently the youth men's team coach, says.

Lovlina Borgohain with Sandhya Gurung

Interestingly, one would think her Muay Thai background would be a bonus. But that was not always the case according to Abhishek. "She was raw talent. We had selected her on the basis of motor qualities. Muay Thai's stance/basics are entirely different. We had to unlearn and then learn boxing. Even if you watch now, sometimes it seems like her stance is what we see in Muay Thai."

Lovlina had left a touching note, thanking Abhishek after securing the quota last year.

Two physios to stay back for wrestlers

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

PHYSIOTHERAPISTS from Indian archery and shooting contingents will join the country's wrestlers at the Games Village ahead of their competitions starting on August 3. Vinesh Phogat (53kg) had expressed her displeasure a week ago as her physio, Poornima R Ngomdir, who accompanied the ace wrestler for the entire European exposure trip ahead of the Olympics, was not given accreditation for the marquee event.

The issue gained prominence after it emerged that only one physio, Brajesh Kumar, will be there for the wrestlers in the Village.

Sources confirmed that Vinesh suggested the name of Zeinia Samar, an Olympic Gold Quest (OGQ) physio, currently with the Indian shooters in Tokyo. Chinmay Shrirang Bhide, the Indian archery team's physio, will also lend his services to the wrestlers. It is learnt that Bajrang Punia (65kg) recommended the name of Bhide, who is also from OGQ.

"Physio Brajesh Kumar, who was with the men wrestlers in Russia, had already reached the venue along with the team. Two others will join the team once their respective events get over. The female physio from the Indian shooting contingent will work closely with the women wrestlers," a source from the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) told this daily.

Meanwhile, the male wrestlers — Bajrang, Ravi Dahiya (57kg) and Deepak Punia (86) — reached Tokyo on Friday. The trio will start training from Saturday. Their foreign coaches, however, are expected to reach the Japanese capital on August 2. The women wrestlers, who reached the venue earlier than their male counterparts, have already started training at the Village.

SONAM TO KICKSTART INDIA'S CAMPAIGN

As per the schedule on the website of United World Wrestling, Sonam Malik (62kg) will begin India's wrestling campaign on August 3. As many as seven wrestlers from the country will compete at the Tokyo Games.Ravi, Deepak and Anshu Malik (57kg) will be in action on the next day. Given the schedule, the duo of Ravi and Deepak will be able to start training under the guidance of their respective personal coaches only a couple of days before their first bouts. India's biggest medal hope Vinesh will start her campaign on August 5. Favourite Bajrang and Seema Bisla (50kg) will take the mat on August 6. The wrestling competitions are scheduled from August 1 to 7.

Lahiri slips on weather-hit second day

Anirban Lahiri endured an erratic day at the course and was even-par after 16 holes in the Olympic Games second round which was suspended due to persistent thunderstorms over the east course of the Kasumigaseki Country Club on Friday. Lahiri, 4-under on first day, was one of the 16 golfers who were yet to finish their rounds and was tied 20th at the time of suspension of play. They will return on Saturday morning at 7.45 am and the third round will start after that. Lahiri bogeyed the second, but made up with a birdie on the sixth to turn in in even par. On the back nine, he birdied the 10th but dropped a shot on the 13th.

Parents stay away from live action

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

EARLY on Friday morning, the country's eyes were firmly fixed on Assam boxer Lovlina Borgohain. People from across the country were tuning in to watch the 23-year-old's bout against Chinese Taipei's Nien-Chin Chen on their television sets and laptops, knowing that she was just a win away from assuring herself of a medal. Ironically, though, her parents – Tiken Borgohain and Mamoni Borgohain – chose to not watch their daughter scripting a moment of magic.

"Usually, boxing matches entail a lot of excitement, so we chose to stay away from watching it live," her father Tiken told this newspaper.

He and his wife were understandably tense, frantically walking around their home at the nondescript Baro Mukhia village in Assam's Golaghat district. Anxiety might have prevented the Borgohain household from watching the bout but the parents had given their blessings during a brief phone call that Lovlina made in the morning. It was at around 5.30 AM that Borgohain senior woke up to a call from Lovlina.

Eventually, it was a well-wisher that called them up to break the news of Lovlina's triumph. Soon, neighbours started flooding their house and his phone has kept ringing ever since. "I cannot tell you how happy we are. She has got the reward for years of hard work and determination," Tiken went on to add.

He went on to point out what the medal means to the youngster. "She had always dreamt of taking part at the Olympics and winning a medal. Her dream has come true. It is a moment that we will remember for the rest of our lives."

And Lovlina's father and the locals in the village of Baro Mukhia believe that she is not done yet. They are confident that a gold medal is within Lovlina's grasp. "We were certain about the victory because she had the love and blessings of people of Assam. They prayed at home and at namghars (Vaishnavite prayer centres) for her success," said Horen Gohain, a family friend.

"We are all happy. We want her to return with the gold medal," he added.

Lovlina's first coach, Padum Chandra Bodo of Sports Authority of India (SAI) in Guwahati, was ecstatic.

"We built her at the SAI complex. She grew up in front of us and today, she is an Olympic medallist. I am very happy," Bodo beamed.

Bodo spotted Lovlina's ability back in 2012 during a talent hunt programme. It didn't take long for the coach to realize that she had all the makings of a good boxer. "She had good height. After some tests, I could realise she will make a good boxer," the coach recalled.

Nat'l record not enough for Sable to enter finals

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

SO close, yet so far. It would be an apt phrase to describe Avinash Sable's Olympics debut in the 3000m steeplechase at Tokyo on Friday. In an event, where 15 athletes make it to the medal round, the Indian, who finished seventh in his heat with a timing of 8:18.12s — a new national record — was the 13th fastest, but he still missed the elusive finals spot.

How? As per the qualification rules, top three finishers from the three heats are automatic qualifiers and the remaining six are awarded to the best six non-automatic qualifiers. Interestingly, his timing was better than the top three athletes in the third heat. When it came to the last six spots, he had seventh-best timing, which meant he was out. The lady luck was not by his side. "I guess we have to say that Avinash was quite unlucky as he could make it to the finals of the event. But, performance-wise I am quite happy with what he achieved." Amrish Kumar, Sable's coach, told this daily from Tokyo.

Sable gave his best and was even pushing others in the heat around him. At one point of time — mid race — he even came from behind and led for a very brief period as he realised that the pace was quite slow. "If the race would get slow, it would have been bad for us (timing wise) so he also picked up pace and led also," explained the coach. The pain of coming so close and missing out on the finals must be there, but Sable can walk around with his head held high. Sable has always delivered on the track for the last couple of years. In fact, Sable, who bettered his own national record, has made a habit of breaking records. Be it the Worlds or domestic competitions, his timings have only improved after every competition. From the 2018 nationals to the last Federation Cup in March, he has broken the national record multiple times. And when he broke his own record in Tokyo once again, it just goes to show that he is not overawed by the big occasion.

NO GOLDEN SLAM FOR NOLE

Sindhu gives no quarter

Rio silver medallist beats Yamaguchi to set up semis clash with Tai Tzu-Ying

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

YOU can hear a pin drop inside the badminton arena at the Musashino Forest Plaza. Because there are no crowds, you can also hear two players breathing. Extremely fast. Both of them are down. The rally they have played is 62 seconds long. The lactic acid in their muscles is making both of them grimace. The umpire shows some sympathy and allows both of them an unscheduled water and towel break.

Akane Yamaguchi, who wins the point with a smash to PV Sindhu's backhand, senses an opportunity. It's the first time she has sensed any opportunity Friday. She has won six of the last seven points, it's the kind of run players usually use as a platform to win games, and matches.

The Japanese, nicknamed the Energiser Bunny because of her endurance capacities, forages on moments like this. Sindhu, who is feeling the pace for the first time in the match, loses her iron-like grip on the match. Five minutes before that 54-shot rally, Sindhu is seven points away from a second successive semifinal at the Olympics. A few minutes after that rally, Yamaguchi is one point away from forcing the third game.

The next five minutes is the perfect example of why Sindhu has become this big-game monster, an all-conquering mamba mentality that has helped her make the big stages her playground.

From 18-20, she saves both game points with two smashes after moving Yamaguchi around the court like she's a master puppeteer. Now, strictly speaking, the Japanese doesn't mind moving around, she is born to play that way. But she doesn't like being on the receiving end of Sindhu's punishing smashes. 18-20 becomes 21-20 just like that, thanks to her prowess in moving the bird to the front and back court before moving in for the kill. The 1-2 at 19-20 is a particular highlight. The match point is academic because this is a different Sindhu.

There was a time when she was considered a bit fragile on the big occasions. Not anymore. She is an absolute beast and the way she goes about monstering her opponents in big matches is almost mean. On commentary, Gill Clark says this is the form that took her to Worlds gold in Basel in 2019. Almost two years removed from Basel, the 26-year-old, if anything, looks even more assured. She has improved her net play — on Friday, she engaged and won a lot of points with her net play — and is moving a lot better. If she came into the limelight with an 'imma smash everything' recklessness, she is now more calculative, somehow even more dangerous.

She will have to be that on Saturday. Standing on the other side of the green canvas is Tai Tzu-Ying, her greatest nemesis. The Chinese Taipei, one of the greatest women's players of all time, leads the head-to-head count 5-13 (to be fair almost everybody in the women's game has a negative head-to-head record against her). She is a magician with her flicks, variations and drops. Playing her is akin to playing the sport while trying to dance on ice without proper footwear. Even as you preparing to move in one direction, she diverts the bird in another direction.

The Indian No 6 seed, though, will fancy her chances just because of what she has become in the last two years. Her bloody-mindedness and her willingness to sign up for the struggle. For all of Tai's gifts, she isn't a scrapper (she did show admirable courage and fight to beat Ratchanok Intanon in the quarters on Friday). She uses her considerable gifts in overpowering athletes, not engaging in a physical battle with them.

Sindhu doesn't mind the physical battle. She showed it during that 54-shot, 62 second rally. She's now 42 points away from going to a place where only two other women's badminton players have gone to. Back to back Olympic singles final.

Manu, Rahi crash out of 25m pistol

PTI @ Tokyo

INDIAN shooters Manu Bhaker and Rahi Sarnobat crashed out of the 25m pistol qualifications (rapid fire stage) as both finished outside the top-8 at the Tokyo Olympics here on Friday. It means the pistol shooters will return home empty-handed for the second straight time at the Olympics. Bhaker shot 290 in the rapid fire stage of the qualifications for a total of 582, a day after scoring 290 in precision at the Akasa Shooting Range, while the more experienced Sarnobat managed 573 (287+286).

The field comprised 44 shooters in the qualifications. Placed an impressive fifth after the first stage of qualifications, the 19-year-old Bhaker faltered after a promising start, slipping with two 8s and many 9s, numbers that led to her downfall in what has turned out to be a forgettable maiden appearance.

Familiar ending for Deepika

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @ New Delhi

IT must have felt like deja vu for Deepika Kumari ahead of her Olympic quarterfinal face-off against South Korea's An San in the women's individual recurve section. The Korean was considered a rising star when the pair met at the Tokyo test event back in 2019. The end result was a 0-6 humbling for the Indian ace. On Friday, once again it was the same venue, the same opponent and eventually a similar result as well.

In just over five minutes, the current World No 1's Tokyo adventure came to a halt as the Korean steamrollered her way to the semifinals and ultimately the gold medal. The Ranchi athlete fell short for the third time in a row at the Olympic stage and invariably questions have been raised regarding her mental fortitude under duress.

The first shot of both archers seemed like a sign of things to come. While the Korean hit a perfect 10, Deepika managed a measly 7. And in big matches, even if you falter once, that is enough for the opponent to clinch the deal and that is exactly what happened as the Olympic record holder hit a hat-trick of 10s to seal the first set.

The Padma Shri awardee hit three 10s thereafter but it was a flurry of 7s in the second and third set that brought upon her downfall. While her opponent was not up to her usually impeccable standards, she was not required to hit those same heights but consistent shooting and never going below 8 worked like magic. The contest ended 30-27, 26-24, 26-24 in favour of the 20-year-old.

Despite some vociferous cheering from her husband Atanu Das, who takes the field on Saturday, the three-time Olympian once again crumbled under pressure. Back in London, there were high hopes on Deepika as she was entering as the top recurve exponent but the end result was a shock first-round ouster. In Rio, a pre-quarterfinal appearance was what she managed and now the last eight. "I am not sure what happened. I tried hard but I could not perform to my own expectations," Deepika said after her loss at the Yumenoshima Park. "I feel very sad, because I did well in the last two World Cups."

WILL JAMAICA DOMINATE AGAIN?

The women's 100m final is the first big sprint final on Saturday night in the athletics programme. Here are the things to watch out for...

THE MAIN CONTENDERS

It's, unsurprisingly, the usual suspects. The likes of Shelly-Ann Fraser-Pryce and defending champion Elaine Thompson-Herah, both from Jamaica, will probably start the favourties. Their time in the heats was barely believable. There is also extremely strong ensemble led by the likes of Dina Asher Smith, Michelle-Lee Ahye, Marie-Josee Ta Lou and Murielle Ahoure.

FRIDAY'S PACE

As many as six athletes dipped under 11 seconds in the heats. Those are extremely fast times. If they continue like that, expect some of them at least to smash their personal bests and create national records. However, the weather, it was extremely hot and sticky in the evening, could play spoilsport.

Hockey: Indian men to face Britain in last eight

PTI @ Tokyo

STRIKER Gurjant Singh was twice on target as India comfortably outclassed hosts Japan 5-3 on Friday to complete their pool proceedings with four victories having already sealed a quarter-final berth in the Tokyo Olympics. Apart from Gurjant (17th, 56th), Harmanpreet Singh (13th), Shamsher Singh (34th) and Nilakanta Sharma (51st) scored for India to hand the eight-time Olympic champions their third consecutive win in Pool A at the Oi Hockey Stadium.

Kenta Tanaka (19th), Kota Watanabe (33rd) and Kazuma Murata (59th) were the goal getters for Japan, who were already knocked out of the last-eight race ahead of Friday's tie. By virtue of this win, India finished second in Pool A behind Australia with four victories out of five matches. They face Great Britain, who finished third in Pool B, in the quarter-final scheduled on Sunday.

Australia ended their pool engagements on top with four wins and a draw.

India's lone defeat – a 1-7 drubbing – came at the hands of Australia. The top four teams from each pool of six qualify for the quarterfinals.

Women's team stays alive

Navneet Kaur scored a late winner as the Indian women's hockey team kept its quarterfinals hopes alive with a 1-0 win over Ireland in a must-win penultimate pool match here on Friday. India will now need to win their final Pool A match against South Africa on Saturday and hope Ireland loses to Great Britain.

Selemon sets the Bar-ega high with 10,000m gold

GERALD IMRAY @ Tokyo

SELEMON Barega won the first track and field gold medal of the Tokyo Olympics on Friday and claimed the 10,000-meter title back for Ethiopia after nearly a decade of dominance by Mo Farah.

Barega broke clear on the last lap and won in 27 minutes, 43.22 seconds, upsetting world champion and world-record holder Joshua Cheptegei of Uganda, who took the silver medal in 27:43.63. Jacob Kiplimo of Uganda was third for bronze.

Barega's last-lap burst was good enough as he moved out in front with about 300 meters to go and held off the late charge by the two Ugandans, who were expected to go 1-2 in the first track final of the Tokyo Games.

For one moment it looked like Cheptegei might run Barega down on the home straight, but the Ethiopian dipped his head and dug in as Cheptegei's challenge faded.

The 21-year-old Barega etched his name alongside Ethiopian greats Kenenisa Bekele and Haile Gebrselassie, who are maybe the country's two greatest distance runners and who both won the 10,000 title at the Olympics — twice each.

"Even in the future, I want to make history like my previous colleagues," Barega said through a translator. "I'm also very hopeful to achieve more in this Olympics."

Selemon Barega (R) celebrates after winning the 10,000m race on Friday | AFP

Barega is also planning to run in the 5,000.

Cheptegei broke the world record in his last major 10,000-meter race in October and was seen as the best in the world coming into the Olympics. But he took a gamble by not running in any international races over the distance since that record-breaking run. Kiplimo had the fastest time in the world this year and was expected to follow Cheptegei home. Barega left them both behind.

"I had a little pressure because I'd never won an Olympic medal," Cheptegei said.

In the past year, there has been a surge in the number of fans following F1 in India

FORMULA ONE
CAPTURES CITY'S ATTENTION

SHRIYA RAJACHANDRA

IF you open an Instagram page and swipe through the stories especially during the race weekends, it is guaranteed that you will tap through, on average, 20-25 profiles with stories about the race. Over the past year, there has been a surge of Formula One fans, especially among college students. We talk to some of the new Formula One (F1) fans from the city and understand the reasons behind the buzz.

Aniket believes that the Netflix docuseries have played an influential role in grooming F1 fans. "I know so many people, who started watching F1 because of Drive to Survive. The show personally gave me the push to watch and follow the sport."

Released in 2019, Drive to Survive is a docuseries that opens the world of Formula1 to the people. The intimate insight it showcases is believed to be the key reason for the growing number of fans especially youngsters following F1. New research from global analytics company Nielsen Sports has revealed that 2020 witnessed an audience growth of 77%, mostly between the age group of 16 to 35.

"People have started watching Drive To Survive as a result of the pandemic," Aniket adds. Sanjana S, an engineering student, says, "After knowing what goes on behind the scenes - the effort by the team, the amount of dedication, strength and perseverance each driver has, it just adds on to the intensity and makes the race extremely interesting. This knowledge, keeps me at the edge of my seat, all race weekend."

For Udbhavi Balakrishna too, the show helped her to learn the little nuances about the sport. "I love the uncertainty and possibilities; not knowing who will win until the very end because anything is possible. The adrenaline rush I experience as a new fan and the hopes I pin on my favourite team and drivers are all very exciting. I love the competitive spirit of the drivers and teams on the track and the camaraderie off the track. It certainly is a lot more than 'just men driving cars round and round a track," she adds.

While the show has led to a growing fan base in the city, some veteran fans believe that the show is filled with exaggerated drama and doesn't highlight the true essence of the sport. "I understand, drama sells a story, and it is what people remember the most. While I am grateful the show has made the sport bigger in the city, it doesn't necessarily represent the true aspect of the sport. True aspect being that this is a motorsport wherein the skills of the 500+ engineers and talent of the drivers is more important and should be held to a higher regard than the drama portrayed by the show," says Pratyush Kaith, a Formula One engine aspirant.

Awarding Australian Alumni

13 recipients were awarded with over AUD 150,000 during the event

EXPRESS FEATURES

A virtual awards ceremony for the recipients of the Australian Alumni Grant Scheme (AAGS) 2021, was held at the Australian Consulate-General in Chennai, on Friday.

Hosted by Michael Costa, Deputy Consul General for South India, the event was organised in presence of Senator Marise Payne, Australian Minister for Foreign Affairs and Barry O'Farrell AO, Australian High Commissioner to India.

Initiated by the Australian government under the Comprehensive Economic Partnership between Australia and India, AAGS provides seed funding to alumni-led projects. Each grant is awarded up to AUD 20,000. An all-India pilot programme for the same was developed in 2020 by the Australian Consulate-General in Chennai.

"It was to support alumni to apply the knowledge and experience gained through their studies in Australia with projects aimed at solving real-world problems across both countries," said the High Commissioner. He also mentioned that the 2021 round saw 63 high-quality submissions and that over AUD 150,000 were awarded to the selected 13.

The 13 recipients shared their projects from various fields, including environment, technology, agriculture, communication, gender, clean energy and more. Of the selected, four represented Chennai-based teams - Madhavi Shankar for communication app SpaceBasic, Venkateswaran Palat Krishnan for STEM Challenge Pilot, Ashok Jalagam for an Automated Millet Finder, and Lakshmi Venugopal for an Indo-Australian Platform on Environmental Education and Research (IA-PEER). The remaining recipients were posted in Kolkata, Mumbai, and New Delhi.

Congratulating the recipients, Senator Payne said, "The partnership recognises the important role that our alumni play in building bilateral ties. You are a living bridge between the two countries and we value the role you play as unofficial ambassadors for Australia's world-class education system". Also being the Minister for Women, she adds that she is pleased to see a gamut of projects working towards the empowerment of women and the involvement of the female recipients.

Speaking of the success of the first round of AAGS, she mentioned two stand-out projects.

One being clinical trials of cytokine medicated anti-COVID-19 therapy by senior surgical oncologist Dr Akshay Kudpaje, in consultation with doctors of Westmead Hospital, Macquarie University Hospital and University of Sydney.

Next was The Data Duck, an app to enable the Australian alumni community to network across geographies, disciplines and professions, founded by Ritu David.

BACK TO MY HOME AND HEARTH

First Officer Deepti & Capt Jamshed; (right) Naufal Verkumb

Good morning Bangalore!

AT the cost of sounding like the terminator 'I'm back'! I flew into namma city after a three week break with the kids in Mumbai. I brought one child back (kicking and screaming), after using all type of nefarious emotional blackmail. Well, the pandemic does teach one survival skills does it not? I was physically well but emotionally battered. My husband and I floated around in our pristinely clean home constantly bickering about the most inane and unimportant things, with nothing but time on our hands. With no inter-facing even working was 'meh'!

My passion is traveling, performing, training and writing. Frankly, I don't really know what my husband's 'passions' are (other than me of course!). I know he is excellent with all things computer based, hardware, software, anywhere.he can fix it or develop something new. In computer parlance he's a computer geek I suppose, and as for me.I am technologically challenged. We have pursued our own interests, but we were always cognizant of the other's strengths. But alas! During the enforced lockdown, we got on each other's nerves! I would get irritated with him constantly pottering around with the computer while I tried to run the kitchen like a CEO of a multi-million dollar enterprise. Therefore.bringing back one child was extremely important for our mental health. Okay! I know what the great philosopher, Khaleel Gibran said: "Your children come through you but not from you. And though they are with you yet they belong not to you." Oh boy! His philosophy has to be rewritten after this 'twilight-zonesque' realm. Anything that comes through me is mine.

Coming home was a mixed experience. An inexplicable fear gripped me at the lackadaisical attitude we seem to have. Disembarking from the flight was a nightmare in itself. There was that perennial rush to deplane with people standing so close that you could feel their breath on your neck. They herded us like chickens into an overfull bus (didn't the rules stipulate seated passengers only). Why are we so impatient and un-civic? I don't want to compare, but Mumbai has a longer lockdown and their Covid protocols are still stringent which their citizens uncomplainingly adhere to. I feel a sense of fear in my city. There is a massive fudging of Covid-related numbers; the citizens are nonchalant, and dump all moral responsibility on an blasé and unconcerned government. The papers carry ominous warnings but, 'To be or not to be' engulfed by the third wave is the question.

While I was waiting to board in Mumbai, my beady eyes espied a slew of young, confident and smart lady pilots. I was thrilled to be ferried home by one of them. But naturally first-officer, Deepti and I took a photograph together and for good measure included the Captain, Jamshed! I was truly touched by my friends Gypsy Neel and Rekha Ghosh who sent me food from Griham and Farzi, respectively, knowing that my pantry would be like Mother Hubbard's cupboard after three weeks of being away. I brought out my soft warm comforters in this nippy weather while I spoke non-stop with my friends and all was well with the world again.for the time being. It's nice to know one is loved and missed!

I had a very interesting video call with a young entrepreneur Naufal Verkumb, owner of Seigneur Burgers. Sounds incongruous, but we had tried his very European burgers before and they were very tasty. This time around, keeping Covid protocols in mind and yet wanting to introduce all-American burgers, this young man gathered a group of food enthusiasts to have a blind tasting and feedback session! Eat your heart out wine snoots.burgers have come of age!

Stay safe, prudent and responsible my tribe!

YOUR NEXT MEAL IS IN THE CLOUD

Bengaluru is witnessing a surge in delivery-only brands operating cloud kitchens, also known as dark kitchens or ghost kitchens which are relatively cost-effective and easy to scale up

ASLAM GAFOOR

(The writer is a Bengaluru-based hospitality professional, food lover and travel enthusiast)

SINCE last year, the consumer demand for online food and beverage ordering has picked up like never before, thanks to increased work-from-home and socially distanced environments. In the backdrop of reduced dine-in patrons during various lockdown phases, many restaurateurs adapted to changing times with deliveries and takeaways which helped them utilise spare kitchen capacity and build up some cash flow. While the idea is not new, we are witnessing a surge in delivery-only brands in namma Bengaluru operating cloud kitchens, also known as dark kitchens or ghost kitchens which are relatively cost-effective and easy to scale up.

After making waves in Kolkata since 2010, Chowman made an entry in our Garden City with three cloud kitchens offering a wide selection of Chinese cuisine using imported ingredients. Musician, an avid traveller and a foodie, Chowman was conceptualised by Debaditya Chaudhury to bring an upscale dining experience to a larger audience. The menu includes crowd favourites like Black Fungus & Mushroom in Chilli Soy Sauce, Prawn Ka Seong, Crab Meat In Black Bean Sauce, aromatic Chicken Lat Mai Kai, Shanghai Noodles, Singapore Style Meifoon, to name a few.

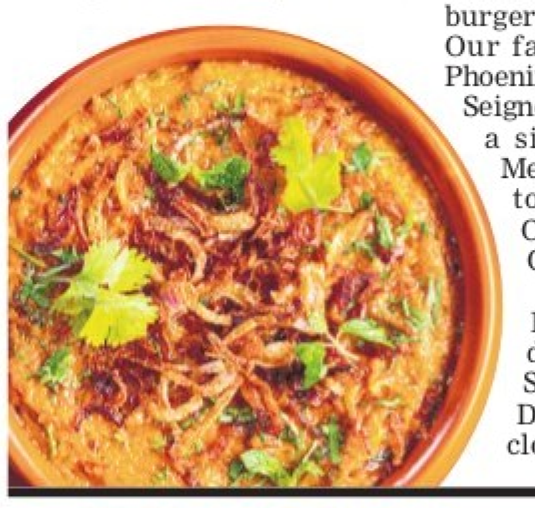
Biryani by Kilo's journey started in Gurugram six years ago, and now, founder and CEO, Vishal Jindal is further expanding the India operations with the opening of their Bengaluru outpost a few weeks ago. On offer are aromatic Hyderabadi, Lucknowi and Kolkata biryani in haandis (clay pots) and an aanch (heating device) for that extra bit of dum. Biryani By Kilo also serves an array of kebab platters, hearty kormas and curries, desserts and drinks that can be ordered a-la-carte or as combo meals.

If you are in the mood for some gourmet European fare, we recommend you dial up the Eurotrip cloud kitchen launched by Raahi Neo Kitchen and Bar. Culinary consultant, chef Sombir Choudhary's Eurotrip menu features Greek Moussaka with eggplant, potato and cheese; Chicken Stroganoff baked with fresh cream and herb sauce; Curried Cauliflower Au Gratin baked in a wood fired oven; pasta and risotto with veg, chicken and prawn options. You may also opt for burgers, signature bread, pizzas and top it all with decadent desserts such as Burnt Basque Cheesecake and Brownie Mayhem Cake. While you are at it, don't forget to sip on some cool shakes and iced teas.

Burger Seigneur co-owner Naufal Verkumb and team have four new burger flavours up their sleeve, along with the launch of their cloud kitchens and an e-commerce platform. Diners across the city can now satiate their appetite with American and European styled burgers, shakes and desserts. Our favourites include The Phoenix Burger, Lucien and the Seigneur Cheese Burger with a side of Skillet Cookie, Melted Belgian Chocolate topped with Vanilla Ice Cream and a Belgian Chocolate Shake.

Impresario Handmade Restaurants, popular for dine-in brands such as Social and Smoke House Deli, has launched three cloud kitchens headed by Jaydeep Mukherjee. The first is BOSS Burger offering a wide selection of juicy burgers (₹199++ onwards) made to order from scratch. To satiate your burger pangs, you may choose from the OG Aloo Tikki Burger, Holy Guacamole! Black Bean Burger and the Truffled 3 Cheese Tenderloin Burger, all accompanied with classic or curly fries, onion rings, shakes and fresh juices.

Momos, dim sums and comfort Asian fare headline Impresario's second kitchen called Hung-Li. The extensive menu (₹199++ onwards) includes Veggie Spring Rolls, Schezwan Chicken Momos, Tru-Li Dead-Li Chicken Wings, Spicy Prawn Dim Sums and Shrimp Popcorn with Choc-Li Brownie or a Banoffee Jar. The third brand is Lucknowee, which specialises in rich Awadhi cuisine with flavourful and legendary recipes passed down many generations. The hearty feast (₹249++ onwards) includes Murgh Chakori Kebabs, Malai Khumb Tikkas, Lucknowee Galouti Kabab, Lucknowee Khichda and Bhuna Gosht Biryani with Phirni or Shahi Tukda.



Changing patterns

JANIN KANNOTH

(The writer is resident mixologist & beverage manager, URU Brewpark)

THE Covid pandemic has forced many lifestyle and habit changes, and an important one is the impact on the F & B industry. While the food outlets reinvented themselves to stay afloat with increased delivery and takeaways, cloud kitchens, and the like, the sale of drinks took quite a hit because of myriad restrictions on the sale of alcohol and spirits. Most states did not allow home delivery of alcoholic beverages, and, as a result, consumers were forced to buy their liquor themselves, and consume it at home during the lockdown period. Naturally, this has led to a change in consumption patterns once restrictions have eased, and one can sense these changes, especially in busy bars and microbreweries.

One change that is very noticeable is that the sale of bottled liquor has gone down considerably, as most people have gotten used to drinking at home, and are still wary of drinking out even though they now have the option of doing so. Consumption of shooters and shots, by and large, remain the same, and, in fact there was a noticeable increase as soon as the restrictions were lifted, as people used them as a celebratory drink. Beer sales, especially in microbreweries, have remained fairly constant as craft brews always have a loyal following.

At our microbrewery, we let you choose the potency of the cocktail, and that's probably the reason why our cocktails are best sellers, and have been doing extremely well. Since the potency of the cocktail can be customised by the guests, a strong cocktail is often preferred to a straight drink as they are similarly priced, and a cocktail tastes and looks better. Many guests also prefer a cocktail with multiple flavors which add colour to the drink and make it more 'photogenic'. Also, most of the ingredients we use in the cocktails are natural while ensuring that the quality and taste of the cocktail remains the same. Post Covid, many people prefer natural products as opposed to artificial sweeteners and the like, which is probably one of the reasons for the increased popularity of cocktails.

David Ayer Slams Studio Cut of Suicide Squad

CE FEATURES

James Gunn's Suicide Squad is getting showered with largely positive early reviews from various corners. However, the most heartwarming reaction came from the original Suicide Squad director, David Ayer. While offering support to Gunn's presumably unadulterated and faithful adaptation of the comic book, Ayer slammed his own 'studio cut' version.

Responding to a film critic's tweet that Ayer should "abandon the idea" of a director's cut, the End of Watch filmmaker expressed, in a three-page statement, his displeasure over how his version of Suicide Squad turned out after the studio meddled with his original vision. In a Twitter letter titled My Turn, Ayer briefly recounted his difficult life journey before landing his first big break scripting Training Day. "I put my life into Suicide Squad," he wrote. "I made something amazing - My cut is an intricate and emotional journey with some 'bad people' who are s on and discarded (a theme that resonates in my soul). The studio cut is not my movie. Read that again."

Elaborating further, Ayer added that his cut is not the "10-week director's cut". "It's a fully mature edit by Lee Smith standing on the incredible work by John Gilroy. It's all Steven Price's brilliant score, with not a single radio song in the whole thing. It has traditional character arcs, amazing performances, a solid third act resolution. A handful of people have seen it. If someone says they have seen it, they haven't."
